Hoover's Report Puts Prohibition Enforcement Needs Up To Congress

ROGERS WISHES FOR DRY LAND, BUT HE
HOPE'S IT'S EUROPE

(Special To The News)
ABOARD S. S. BREMEN, Jan. 14.—My remaining days are dedicated to annihilate the author of the slogan "Big b o a t s don't rock." Say, the higher they are rock, they tail spin, sue up a n d ground loop.

Well, here's how bad it is. There is not an American in the bar room and when I think of those poor senators on the George Washington, may the Almighty have pity on a poor peace delegation on a boat on a night like this.

The more I see of steamship travel, the less I think of the hardship of Lindbergh. If I can find a pilot that wants to fly to America I will be his Levine and this goes as an advertisement.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.
P. S.—Wish they would disarm these waves.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

If the present brand of weather continues, buds on the trees will be bursting soon. Lawns about the city look almost as green as in the summer time, new growth appearing near the roots. Fishing worms have been out crawling on the ground for the past few days, showing that there is little frost below the surface.

A lot of new license plates cannot be read because of the accumulation of dirt on them. The law requires that they be clearly legible at all times. Some of these days someone will start a drive on motorists who do not keep their plates clean.

Motorists who had occasion to do much travelling at night, report that terrible fogs have enveloped the roads in the rural districts. One motorist returning from Erie stated that the road was obscured by fog all the way, and driving was extremely difficult. Early last evening, a marky fog hung over the city, reminding one of the定期 fog.

Although the Shenango river is at the 12.8-foot stage this morning and will probably continue to rise a little before it finally starts back the other way, it is no higher than it was on January 21 of last year, a comparison of the records shows. A year ago today, however, the mercury stood somewhere around 20 below zero, and the ground was well covered with snow. When the regular January thaw occurred later in the month, the melting ice and snow sent local streams up suddenly.

Young Pa Newc saw an automobile Monday afternoon which was painted entirely aluminum color. Wonder if the reason is to reflect the sun's rays. Maybe, who knows?

Here's a little act noted by Pa Newc that wasn't the act of a good citizen. It was a little thing, but just one of those affairs that results in streets being littered all the time. A man came down out of the postoffice reading a letter. As he reached the sidewalk, he tore it up into about twenty pieces, and threw the fragments into the street. You can imagine the littered appearance of the street in the vicinity of the postoffice for a time.

With reports of heavy snow in parts of California, and the mild, spring-like weather we have been experiencing. (Continued on Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—While President Hoover was receiving a generally favorable public reaction to the report of his National Law Enforcement Commission, interest today centered on Congress where legislation must be enacted to put that body's plan for bolstering up the present "entirely inadequate" Federal prohibition machine into effect.

Wets Renew Battle
On the other hand, wet leaders were driving much satisfaction from the commission's warning that in any consideration of the liquor problem Congress should not forget "the many historical examples of large-scale public disregard of laws in our past." They took heart over the commission's findings of "a staggering number of what might be called focal points of infection" and prepared to renew their drive for modification on the basis of these statements.

On Capitol Hill, the prohibitionists were marshaling their forces to spur through the recommended legislation, whereby it is hoped to relieve court congestion, put new teeth in certain phases of the dry law and unify enforcement agencies under the Department of Justice.

Wets apparently were lying in wait,

BUSINESS MEN FAVOR BUILDING COURT HOUSE

Lawrence county is in urgent need of an adequate court house, and vigorous efforts to build a new one should be launched immediately, in the opinion of 30 prominent business men of New Castle, who met with County Commissioners C. C. Boyd, P. O. Elder and T. J. McCullough at noon Monday.

Before the meeting adjourned, a straw vote was taken of those present and the count revealed it was unanimous belief of the merchants that a new building is necessary and should be started at once, to do away with the inadequate structure now in use.

While the merchants did not specify their choice of a location, it was the belief that the adjoining Boyles property, if purchased at present, could be used to advantage. At the present time different departments of the court house, owned by the county surrounding the court house, and it would be logical as well as advantageous to locate these in the Boyles home should the purchase be made, even though a new building is not begun at once.

Offices of the county officials could also be temporarily established at the Boyles home while the new building or at least while a part of the construction work is going on, the business men believe.

The county commissioners when asked to speak, told the business men that the need for a new court house is great. They referred to their own experience in having to locate themselves in the hall of the present building when a private conference is desired, no suitable room being provided for this.

The fact that President Hoover has asked all state, county and municipal governments to join in his national prosperity drive by carrying on necessary or soon-to-be-necessary programs of building work this year, that unemployment might be stemmed in the respective districts as much as possible, was cited as another reason for immediate action.

The meeting, presided over by J. C. Miner, secretary and treasurer of the Home Trust company, was held in the rooms at the Colonial.

ABOARD S. S. GEORGE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—In an effort to comply with Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson's desire to reach Plymouth on Thursday night instead of Friday as scheduled, the engines of the George Washington turned over at full speed today, driving this liner and the American delegation to the London naval disarmament conference toward England at a fast clip.

Secretary Stimson asked the George Washington's skipper to make Plymouth by Thursday night if possible, in order that he might have another full day for the important preliminary conferences with the heads of the various delegations before the parley gets under way.

Plans Conferences.

The head of the American delegation is scheduled to confer with Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald of Britain, Premier Andre Tardieu of France, Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy, and Reijo Wakatsuki of Japan, in the short space of time intervening between his arrival in England and the start of the conference a week from today.

James Messner reported to the police that he was enroute west on Long avenue at South Jefferson street, when a boy named Bill Memekski of West Reynolds street, ran out in front of his car and was knocked to the street. Mr. Messner took the boy to the New Castle hospital, where on examination, it was found that he had not been seriously injured.

When the flames spread to the three-story apartment house adjoining the garage building, six other families residing on the second and third floors also were forced from their homes. None was reported injured.

Britzman said.

A slight drop in the temperature is expected to accompany the rain during the day and prospects for a further rise in the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers may bring them close to flood stage of about 25 feet Britzman said.

Detective Jerry Murphy was killed outright in the first fusillade of shots as was an unidentified bandit. Lieutenant Edward Conroy, leading the squad up the stairs to the apartment fell with a bullet in his body.

Riddle By Bullets

One of the three wounded bandits died on the way to the hospital. He had been riddled by five bullets.

The other two are expected to die also.

Led by Conroy, the squad entered the apartment house at an early hour this morning in response to a call that one of the apartments was being plundered.

Splitting the squad, one group entered the front and the other approached from the rear.

As they crept stealthily up the stairs they were met with a veritable hall of bullets from the darkened landing above. Murphy fell dead without having fired a shot.

The other members of the squad dashed part of the way up the staircase, returning the bandits' fusillade, mowing down all four of the bandits.

Committees were appointed for the various activities connected with the coming encampment, particularly that which the Sons of Veterans Reserve will have in the proceedings.

Three thousand dollars was set as the figure essential to entertain the Reserve, which will have between eight hundred and a thousand uniformed men under canvas for six days. It will be necessary to secure canvas for the men from the United States Army and this will require an act of congress, which will be sought through Congressman J. Howard Swick. It will require action on the part of Post No. 100, G. A. R. requesting the use of the canvas in order to secure it.

Entrance was effected by breaking a window at the rear, which enabled the thief or thieves to gain admittance to the cellar. An ax was used in drilling holes about the hinges of the door from the cellar into the main storeroom, which made it possible to force the door and get into the store.

Among the articles missed were ten to fifteen penknives, six wrist watches, fifteen cartons of cigarettes, some meat, six pounds of butter, overalls, men's shorts and underwear, sweaters, ladies' underwear, men's handkerchiefs and a black leather coat.

The police are following up a number of clues and are hopeful of making an arrest or arrests in this case as well as other robberies that have occurred here recently.

Inquest Into Munhall Blast Starts Today

Fifty Witnesses Give Testimony At Coroner's Inquest Into Fatal Blast

"SMELLED NO GAS" WITNESS CLAIMS

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 14.—With more than fifty witnesses scheduled to testify the coroner's inquest into the gas explosion that wrecked the Munhall postoffice building, causing the deaths of six persons last December 5, began here today.

The first four witnesses were unable to cast any light on the probable cause of the fatal blast. Each testified that there was no indication of escaping gas prior to the explosion and their testimony was chiefly confined to relating their experiences after the blast occurred.

Smeled No Gas
Among those who testified during the early part of the hearing was George Thirkell who lived in the apartment above the postoffice at Munhall. His testimony was practically a reiteration of that of the three witnesses who preceded him.

"I heard a kind of a noise," he said describing his experience when the blast let go. "The floor came up and then something came down on me, and when I came to I was out on the street. I smelled no gas. The only thing I noticed before the explosion was the irregularity of the flow of gas."

Thirkell then said that the explosion and subsequent shock had practically deprived him of the use of his voice. During the time he was testifying he talked so low that the jurors had difficulty in hearing him.

STIMSON URGES LINER CAPTAIN TO MAKE SPEED

up her present spurt and land Stimson and his aides at Plymouth Thursday evening, the American delegation will arrive in London by midnight, have a few hours sleep on terra firma, and be ready to undertake the work in hand bright and early Friday morning.

Urged By Dawes.
It is understood that this alteration in the delegation's plans was the result of receipt of a wireless message from Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to Britain, urging that Stimson arrive in London with all possible speed.

Quite naturally the change in plans aroused considerable speculation as to the reasons why Ambassador Dawes urged Stimson to try and have the liner speeded up. So far as is known among observers aboard the vessel, there is no hitch in the substantial agreements already existent for extending the battleship building "holiday," and the liner's agreement necessarily awaits tedious measuring by technical committees.

One reason advanced for the Thursday arrival was a desire for Secretary Stimson's counsel in the preliminary conversations concerning the Mediterranean agreement asked by the French government.

While General Dawes is fully conversant with the American position, the benevolent aloofness of Secretary Stimson's position makes him an authoritative spokesman in so delicate a matter.

ing for the last two weeks, it sort of looks like the Pennsylvanians who went to California for the winter, will have to revise their schedules.

Apparently spring isn't waiting for the grounding to make his appearance. William Gustafson, who resides on the Pulaski road, reports that the rhubarb is beginning to shoot through the ground in regular spring fashion.

Pa News notes the rapid building of homes on the Wilmington boulevard just outside the city limits, and wonders why the township does not have a fire hydrant placed along the road. It would give fire protection to that district, and would be easily possible Pa News believes, for the water mains go right through the section.

G. T. Halboth of 125 North Beaver street exhibited an interesting curio in The News office today. It was a glass plate, which was manufactured over 50 years ago, apparently as a souvenir of the Liberty bell.

A picture of the Liberty bell was shown in the centre of the plate, with the names of the thirteen original states, and other information. It is believed that this plate is the only one of the kind in this city.

Although February the month of appointment and reappointment for some city employees is drawing nigh, but so far none of the city employees is nervous. It is said there will not be many changes although as always anticipated with a change in administration one or two changes do occur March 1.

Man Witnesses Blast.
Stewart Hettig, Lehigh Valley railroad section foreman who was walking his own tracks near the mineral tracks, was the only man to witness the explosion. Hettig told police that shortly before the blast let go he had seen two men, strangers, lurking about the scene of the subsequent dynamite.

Sooski, a one-armed guard, said that while he was lying dazed in the wreckage he saw a man run up to the iron money chest attached to the trailer car from which the blast had been ripped by the force of the blast, stuff his pockets with currency and flee down the tracks.

Police are convinced that the dynamiting had been carefully planned and skillfully executed, the almost mathematical precision of the bomb's effect pointing to a more than casual knowledge of dynamite-battery blasting. The explosion had been planted in an isolated spot along the mountain side near the mine, where the concussion was most likely to be muted.

There is a salesman who comes to New Castle and incidentally has a part of West Virginia for his territory who doesn't smile when the name W. Glenn Dague is mentioned. He has been reminded by acquaintances of the similarity in appearance and is now wondering if he will be stopped and questioned on his travels.

Not less than 15 persons had broad smiles on their faces at noon today. The cause of the grins were two little children in a parked automobile who were quite attached with the sound of the automobile horn, and so had it blowing constantly. The children were unimpressed by the stares of two members of the police force standing nearby. But there was laughter in the eyes of these two officers. In fact, it was all enjoyed by everyone.

With temperature at 60 degrees at noon many of the downtown stores had the front doors wide open in the middle of summer.

It is an old saying, "In January the days begin to lengthen and the cold begins to strengthen," but this year the latter part is not running quite true to form.

The rivers are not nearly as high today as they were Monday.

Butler Council, Knights Of Columbus To Observe Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

Members of St. Mary's Council No. 512, Knights of Columbus, have received an invitation from John Murin, district deputy and general chairman of the Butler Council Silver Jubilee celebration to attend the Silver Jubilee degree and banquet to be held by the Butler Council on Sunday, January 26, 1930. Indications are that quite a number of the local members will be in attendance.

The degree work will be put on at 2:30 p. m. on that date with District Deputy Edward F. Griffith of Pittsburgh in charge. The banquet will be held at 6:30 p. m. with the charter members of the Butler lodge, which was organized twenty-five years ago, as guests of honor.

also suffered minor injuries and Harry Powell, a mine worker, was cut and bruised.

The charge of dynamite was set off by a concealed battery hidden behind a clump of pine trees about 200 feet from the narrow gauge mine railroad track. When the improvised pay car's motor had passed over the section of track to which the battery was wired, the bandits slammed down the lever sending the current coursing through to the dynamite.

A terrific explosion resulted, rocking the countryside. The splintered paycar, with its human load, was hurled into the air and thrown on its side. All of the men killed were mutilated. Their limbs were torn from their bodies, their heads and chests were crushed and the currency sent was spewed in wild confusion about the wreckage.

MUSIC CLUB PRESENTS SPLENDID PROGRAM

Members of the Music Club enjoyed a most delightful and interesting program of Russian music in the ballroom of The Castleton Monday evening, with Mrs. J. Norman Martin as hostess.

The first number on the program, "Come Ye Maidens", from the opera "Eugene Onegin", by Tchaikovsky, was given by the chorus. They gave a splendid and interpretive rendition of this number, showing fine balance of parts. The chorus numbers were very well chosen, all being typical Russian compositions.

Miss Mary Long played "Polochino Rachmaninoff" in her unusual, artistic manner.

Mr. Robert E. Flemming sang most effectively "Berceuse-Grechaninoff".

The members were pleased to have as their guest soloist Mrs. Elsa Von Moltke Emery, one of the city's foremost violinists. She played beautifully the much loved "Song of India", Rimsky Korsokoff, and gave an encore.

LOYALTY TO ROYALTY

ABOUT the circumstances leading to and attending the marriage of princess Marie Jose, of Belgium, and Crown Prince Hubert, of Italy, there was a pleasant reminiscence of Hans Christian Andersen. In his imaginary world the kings and princesses wear crowns and splendid regal robes, dwell in palaces and sometimes experience difficulty in sleeping on the most delicate of feather beds. Nevertheless, they manage to remain very human and even very 'bourgeois.'

It was a royal wedding in all ways that the name implies. None of the pomp was missing and at least the semblance of power was there. In attendance on the nuptials and receptions were more monarchs than the world supposed had survived the World War and the Kingdom-wrecking upheavals that followed it. In a sense, it was a royal reunion and the first of equal magnitude in many years.

These events must have been the despair of the young republicans, democrats, socialists, and communists of the Old World. Such acclaim as the royal guests and wedding party were accorded by the masses is not encouraging to those in the business of depositing the old ruling classes. In the very act of bowing servile homage to royalty, might there not have flared up a spark of envy in the heart of Premier Mussolini, who at the zenith of his power has seemed to regret that his power is not by 'divine right.'

Why do people, who pretend to hate and fear royalty, fete their princess and prince and support that royalty in splendor? Why does civilized man retain many of the traits of the prehistoric man? People who for generations have defended the divine right of kings cannot learn in a day to practice their new-found belief in the equality of man.

AND THE CITIZEN PAYS THE BILL

Representative Underhill of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee on accounts of the house, has been overhauling the Congressional Record in the interest of economy.

He suggests that space might be saved and printer's bills reduced if the much-employed word 'applause' interjected throughout speeches should be eliminated. But why deprive the orator who speaks to empty benches of his harmless vanity? Besides, doesn't it convey to the constituent at home when he is mailed a copy of the speech—the impression that his representative is not without appreciation in Washington?

But when Mr. Underwood asserted that too much 'political propaganda' and too much advertising matter are put into the Congressional Record, he said something worth while, asserts the Inquirer, of Philadelphia. Not that reforms will follow. They will not. Nevertheless, it is well to call attention to the existence of this expensive evil now and in order that the public may get an understanding of the enormity of it.

Thousands upon thousands of words are inserted in the Record from purely political and personal motives. Material for campaigns in congressional districts is collected in this manner. This collecting process has been going on ever since congress assembled last April. What will become of it? It will go to the voters in pamphlet form through the mails and the government will foot the cost of transportation, which is to say that the citizen himself will foot it through taxation.

The moment anything is printed in the Congressional Record it becomes a part of the publication, and may be mailed everywhere free of carrying charges to any senator or representative. Members who are candidates for re-election are thereby given a decided advantage over their opponents. They may use the mails by wholesale—there is no limit—to circulate their constituents, whereas their rivals must raise huge funds merely for the purchase of stamps.

It is a wretched system and a vicious one which should be abolished—and won't be for reasons that are quite apparent.

THE PUBLIC LANDS

It has been said that the mistakes of the federal government with regard to conservation have been due to politics rather than to policy. There is no reason, therefore, to believe that interference from politics would be lessened if the federal land reserves and public lands were to be transferred from federal control to the control of the states in which they are located. In fact, it is no secret that one of the reasons for the agitation to that end is that the local political and business interests which wish to have easier access to the lands and forest for purposes of exploitation would find the state authorities more amenable than the federal government. Remember the oil reserve scandal!

For the present, at least, the machinery can best be operated by the federal government. If the reserves are a white elephant on the hands of the administration at Washington, all the more reason for control to remain there. That white elephant might get worse treatment at the hands of several state governments that are even more at the mercy of grasping politicians than is the national government.

There will be cause for suspicion should the commonwealths having federal lands be found in a receptive mood when the national government makes a serious move to turn the lands over to the states. The history of State's rights and centralization of government contains few instances where the federal government has turned back powers to the commonwealths and where those powers have been gratefully received by the states.

AIR MAILED DOUBLED LAST YEAR

Estimating that about 7,000,000 pounds of mail were carried by the twenty-five domestic air routes in 1929, the American Air Transport Association points out that this is a gain of nearly one hundred per cent over the previous year. It is expected that in a short time this service will be extended so that it will completely cover South America, with all of the routes operated by American companies.

Chicago is still the center of the domestic air service, but it is spreading out in every direction and it is only a question of time when every important point will be covered. The reduction to five cents for the ordinary first-class letter has undoubtedly stimulated the business of the post office department.

SUPERSTITION

A German sued the director of a museum because of injuries received while moving a shrine that heathen gods were supposed to watch over. The workman believed a curse had been put upon him by some supernatural power. The judge wisely ruled that the man has been injured as a result of his own carelessness. Superstition was thrown out of court.

We laugh at that sort of thing but many of us are in the class of the German workman. We attribute our misfortunes and our failures to every reason but ourselves. We are usually the real reason—our carelessness, our laziness, our fuzzy, confused thinking, our failure to look the facts in the face.

ODD JOBS

Washington is not altogether a city of law makers and adding machine clerks. There is romance, mystery, adventure and fascination in even government offices. Uncle Sam is engaged in a variety of enterprises that few people ever hear about. One learns that in the agriculture department there is a man experimenting day after day in an effort to give golfers better putting greens. Another man is figuring what the tariff ought to be on gold fish. Another is studying sea weed and still another is measuring the heads of congressmen to see if he can arrive scientifically at legislative ability. The government is up to all sorts of interesting things, some of them important.

HOLDING HISTORY

More than 700 years after King John was forced to come across at Runnymede and give his English subjects some real rights, liberties, and privileges—the Magna Charta—Lady Fairhaven, American woman by birth, has bought the ground where King John performed. She does a splendid service. If only more places of historic significance might be preserved the cause of education would be greatly advanced. We should hold history before the eyes of the people—especially young people—and there's no better way to do that than by the preservation of shrines.

TITLES

There are 75 Canadians who wear noble titles. They are baron and baronesses or knights of this and that. Canada no longer bestows titles, but the dominion still produces the kind of men who deserve honor. Deserving honor, they win it. They win it in the hearts of their countrymen. A title is only the outward sign of what is supposed to be inward grace. And there is much inward grace without title.

Our Father, let Thy blessing of approval rest upon the labors of today. If any member is sick or in peril, may he be withdrawn from its danger, and those who are safe may they be maintained in their safety. May the power of Thy truth elevate us and let contention follow its acquisition. Disclose and make plain the duties that we owe Thee, ourselves, and our country. Do Thou have compassion upon any who may be in the shadows and whose doubts and fears are more than their joys. This day, blessed Lord, help us to gain strength in all those virtues that make us better men. In the holy name of Jesus our Savior. Amen.

Ring Ceremony Is Pretty Affair

Seven Members Of Senior Girl Reserve Club Are Presented With Rings, Monday Evening

An impressive ceremony took place in the parlor of the Y. W. C. A. Monday evening when seven members of the Senior High School Girl Reserve Club were presented Girl Reserve rings, the symbol of their acceptance of the highest ideals of the club.

The ring ceremonial takes place once a year and is attended only by wearers of the Girl Reserve ring. Miss June Duff, ring chairman, and Miss Edith Bircard, faculty advisor, were in charge of the arrangements of service.

Those receiving rings were the Misses Eleanor Donnelly, Doris Packett, Margaret Wallace, Jane Hawkins, Virgil Wetrich, Katherine Hooper and Emily Parker.

Miss Louise Fink was piano accompanist during the service and Mrs. William Caldwell, chairman of the Girl Reserve committee, rendered a solo. Speaking was done by the Senior Reserve advisors, Miss Ethel Kelley, Miss Dorothy Green, Miss Grace Jones and Miss Martha Smith.

Miss Geneva Hazen acted as page to those receiving rings. The rings were presented in pink roses to the seven members. The ceremony was a most beautiful and impressive one.

Twenty-six ring wearers were present at the dinner following the service. The dinner took place in the Y. W. C. A. third floor dining room. Tables were beautifully decorated, pink candles and roses being used effectively.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Avoid the snags along the commonsense path to fitness and fashion. Don't let over-indulgence deprive you of the tantalizing contour of the modern figure. Be moderate — be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately — when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain the graceful, modern figure with its captivating curves.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco — The Cream of the Crop — "IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Unsightly Mail Boxes Must Go Say Postal Officials

Amendment Providing For Their Removal Approved By Postmaster General

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—The removal of unsightly and unattractive mailbox supports along the highways of Pennsylvania will result from an amendment to the postal laws approved by Postmaster General Brown, it is believed by the post office department.

The amendment provides that supports on which rural mail boxes rest may not be in the form of effigies or in forms intended to represent figures or mechanical objects, either grotesque or otherwise.

The amendment provides that such mailbox supports shall be of neat design and may be of wood, metal or concrete of suitable strength and dimensions. They shall be painted white, and may be either round or square, plain or ornamental.

The postoffice department took this action in an effort to aid in ridding highways and byways of unsightly objects, and in a general order will advise Pennsylvania postmasters along with postmasters of the entire nation that supports conforming to the new specifications must be erected by rural postal route patrons if they expect to receive mail service.

SALIENT FACTS IN LAW ENFORCEMENT COMMISSION REPORT TO U. S. CONGRESS

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The text of the prohibition report of the President's law enforcement commission, in part, follows:

Preliminary report on observance of enforcement of prohibition.

Ever since the organization of this commission on May 28, 1929, it has been giving careful consideration, among other things, to the question of the observance and enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the National Prohibition Act. The problems presented have been numerous and difficult. While we are not ready to make a final report on the subject, we have reached certain conclusions which we are transmitting to you with this communication. The extent and complexity of the problem perhaps may be strikingly presented by reference to a few outstanding facts.

Scope And Size Of The Problem

As to observance: It is impossible wholly to set off observance of the prohibition act from the large question of the views and habits of the American people with respect to private judgment as to statutes and regulations affecting their conduct. To reach conclusions of any value, we must go into deep questions of public opinion and the criminal law. We must look into the several factors in the attitude of the people, both generally and in particular localities, toward laws in general and toward specific regulation. We must note responsible for the large supplies of illegal liquor. To get at the smugglers, the wholesale distributors, and those who manufacture and divert on a large scale, it is necessary to have XXX unification, centralization of responsibility and means of insuring cooperation between federal and state agencies, XXX but they cannot be achieved overnight.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Ideal Roughage

III.
Legal difficulties and proposed remedies.

When we come to the legal difficulties in enforcement, it is possible to speak with much more assurance as to what may be done at once by way of improvement.

XXX

Summarily stated, these difficulties are due to

1. The division of enforcement between the treasury department and the department of justice.

2. The disordered condition of federal legislation involved in enforcement.

3. The possibilities of evading or defeating injunctions proceedings, commonly known as padlock injunctions, by means of transfers and concealments of persons interested in property used for manufacture and sale of illicit liquor.

4. The congestion of petty prosecutions in the federal courts, requiring great delays, interfering seriously with general business, and leading to wholesale disposition of accumulated causes under circumstances impairing the dignity of an injurious respect for those tribunals.

Without prejudice to any ultimate conclusions, we think in the interest of promoting observance of and respect for law, the national prohibition law may well be strengthened and its effectiveness increased in these important particulars.

(A) Transfer of investigation and preparation of cases to the department of justice.

There is very general agreement XXX that the whole task of enforcement through the courts, as distinguished from the granting of permits and administration of regulations as to the legitimate use of alcohol or of liquors, should be concentrated in the department of justice. XXX To dispose of such a mass of cases satisfactorily there must be well-organized coordination of investigation and prosecution, which can only function effectively when under a single head with responsibility definitely placed.

XXX

To deal with an enforcement problem of this size and spread, the personnel of three federal services, whose staffs aggregate about 23,000, Approximately one-tenth of this number is in the investigative section of the prohibition unit. XXX The remainder is engaged in work far different from prohibition.

These figures speak for themselves.

II.

Administrative Difficulties

A frequent complaint is that the federal government is prosecuting small cases and not getting at those

as a means of enforcement is so important that a provision for reaching unknown claimants, non-residents, and residents who conceal themselves to evade service of process would add very greatly to the efficacy of the statute.

It contains nothing which is not already done in the states generally when private claims to property are concerned.

(D) Provisions for relieving congestion in the Federal courts.

From various parts of the country come complaints of congestion of the Federal courts due to the large volume of petty prosecutions under the National Prohibition Act. Obviously, these prosecutions must go on. It would not do to create an impression that minor infractions are to be ignored.

Pension Increases Sought By Swick

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—Two petitions from his district favoring the passage of legislation to increase the pensions of Spanish-American war veterans and widows of veterans have been presented in the house of representatives by J. Howard Swick.

One of the petitions was signed by W. M. Temple and 85 other citizens of Aliquippa, Beaver county, and the other by Simeon D. Morrison and 47 other residents of Butler county.

Both petitions have been referred to the house committee on pensions.

Grundy Favors Local Rivers Development

Links Beaver, Mahoning And Shenango Improvement With That Of Youghiogheny

MEETING TO BE HELD SOON IN PITTSBURGH

Senator Joseph R. Grundy, speaking on waterway development in Western Pennsylvania, expressed his approval of the Beaver, Mahoning, and Shenango Valley project and asserted it would be one of the first matters to be worked out, now that the Ohio river improvement has been completed.

Senator Grundy's statement was made in a letter addressed to Congressman Adam Wyant of Westmoreland county, relative to the improvement of the Youghiogheny, a tributary of the Monongahela river.

With both Senator Reed and Senator Grundy favoring the local project, it is early start on the project seems assured.

Senator Grundy's statement regarding the local project follows:

"With the completion of the Ohio and Monongahela river projects and the development of the Allegheny, we may well give serious study to their tributaries, with a view to bringing them eventually into a single waterway system of service to all of Western Pennsylvania. The development of the Youghiogheny, Beaver, Shenango, and Mahoning rivers naturally will come first and we should look forward, I think, to connecting Lake Erie with the Ohio river as part of the general scheme."

"It will require the united energies of our people to bring this about, but if our legislators, our civic organizations and our industries will co-operate to this end, I am sure that it can be done and that the results will more than justify the time and effort required to convert the vision into a reality."

A conference has been called by the district army engineers in Pittsburgh next Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Federal building, when development of Western Pennsylvania projects will be discussed.

Mission Thankful For Christmas Aid

Superintendent, On Board's Behalf, Acknowledges Support Of Firms

Appreciation for the support given the City Rescue mission in its Christmas treat program by the wholesale and retail merchants of the city, was expressed this morning by the superintendent, Rev. B. J. Watkins, on behalf of the entire Mission board.

Many firms contributed to the needy through the City mission, which distributed 90 baskets on and shortly before Christmas day. Each basket contained more than a bushel of foodstuffs, 3 to 6 loaves of bread, 3 to 5 pounds of roasted meat, one peck of potatoes and numerous other items.

All children of the City mission were given a present Christmas day. Rev. Watkins reports.

HARLANSBURG

W. C. T. U. MEETING

An interesting W. C. T. U. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Walter McClelland, Thursday afternoon with Mrs. James Burton as leader. Loyalty was the subject and was finely carried out in the program.

The leader read a selection from the Bible. This was followed by Mrs. Oliver Cameron leading in prayer.

A paper—"Loyalty to Our Work," was read by Mrs. Joe Burton.

Seven members spelled Loyalty acrostic fashion with Bible verses.

Loyalty to individual work came next and short readings on the "Farmer," "Physician," "Teacher," "Loyalty in School," "Mechanic" and "Preacher" were given.

Reading by Mrs. J. H. Vogan and a reading on "A Happy New Year," by Mrs. Joe Shcaft finished the program and the president took charge of the meeting and read a selection on the "Tenth Anniversary of National Constitutional Prohibition," after which the minutes were read by Mrs. Will Eakin, the secretary being absent the president asked for sentence prayers by the Union. Rev. Dickenson gave the closing prayer.

Refreshments were served by the hosts assisted by the committee.

Y. P. B. Meeting

At the close of the W. C. T. U. meeting the Y. P. B. lead by the general secretary, Mrs. Audley Locke, gave a fine program as follows. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in concert.

Reading—"There is Poison in Beer," Dorothy Johnson.

"Essay on Prohibition"—Bessie Boyd.

Music—Mary Brown.

Reading—"O Flag! We Salute You"—Virginia Kneram.

Prophecy—Irene Eakin.

"Temperance Reading"—Georganna Jinks.

Reading—"The Brain That Counts," Mrs. S. A. Locke.

Duet sang by Jean Locke and Evelyn Cunningham.

Farmer Victim Of Money Box Swindle

STEUBENVILLE, O., Jan. 14.—The victim of a money-box swindle, John Ozelski, 55, Smithfield, O., reported to Sheriff William Yost, today, the loss of $1,500 in cash and Liberty bonds.

Two strangers, he claimed, induced him to place his money in a tin box, promising him rich returns on an investment they would tell him about later. He was permitted to retain the box. He thought it contained the money until the men failed to return and he opened it. The box was filled with paper.

FARMER FINDS QUICK RELIEF IN NEW KONJOLA

New Medicine Wins Quick Victory Over Stubborn Case.

MR. DON S. BAKER

"I am a farmer and enjoyed my work until my stomach lived and I became really disabled," said Mr. Don S. Baker, R. R. No. 2, Townville, Pa. "Food did not digest and painful gasses formed after eating. A regular diet made me ill and often dizzy. I was never free from constipation and my whole system was suffering from accumulation of poisons. My general health became so poor from lack of nourishment and proper sleep that I could no longer do my work. A decided change in my condition, I now eat what I wish without any painful after effects. The bilious attacks are gone, my digestion is now regular and proper. I am free from constipation for the first time in years. My general health has so improved that my work is again a pleasure. I feel well and strong and formerly sallow, is clearing up and even my catarrh, from which I suffered for years, is decidedly better. Konjola is truly a master medicine."

Konjola is sold in New Castle at Love & Megown drug store, and by all the best druggists in the towns throughout this entire section.

Seventh Ward Man's Queries About Hospital Service Are Answered

On Tuesday, January 7, there appeared on the first page of The News a news item captioned "Hold-up Story Breaks Down on Police Inquiry." In one paragraph of that article appeared a statement which has brought to the publisher of The News a letter from a local citizen. As he is also president of the Board of Trustees of the Jameson Memorial hospital it is natural to presume the questions he asks are directed to the hospital.

The paragraph is printed below in order to make matters clear.

Wound Self Inflicted

This morning at the New Castle hospital Rich confessed to Detective C. G. Logan and Officer Charles Longstreth, that the wound was self inflicted, he having shot himself. The confession was made in the presence of the officers and other witnesses.

Sick and in need of hospital treatment when he was unable to secure, because of the fact that he was out of work and without funds, early this morning he undertook to wound himself sufficiently to get into the hospital and secure needed treatment.

The following is the letter of the inquirer:

New Castle, Penna., Jan. 9, 1930.

Hints and Dints Man:

Ne Castle News, City.

Dr. Mr. RENTZ:

To you as president of Board of Directors of Jameson Memorial Hospital I ask following questions:

1st.—Several days ago a young man of city reported to police that he had been held up, shot by bandits.

2nd.—Under questioning by police he broke down and confessed that wound was self inflicted.

3rd.—That he is ill and in need of medical treatment being is the two rooms and equipment necessary. Treatment free.

The City of New Castle has a building on the old poor farm property which was built as a municipal hospital in which contagious diseases are treated. No cost to poor patients.

The insane cannot be placed in a hospital, not equipped to take care of them, and give them the treatment they need. Many insane asylums and sanitariums are at hand for such cases and those not able to pay need not do so.

No accident case is ever refused at the hospital no matter what disease the victim may be suffering from at the time of the accident. An isolation ward is kept for such cases as well as for any contagious diseases which might develop while a patient is in the hospital.

Answer To Question No. 4

It is not necessary for any one to shoot themselves to get into a hospital. We know some who say only two words to us to get into one.

Answer To Question No. 5

All appropriations, except for highways, come out of the general fund. ADD SEVENTH WARD MAN

These appropriations are provided at every session of the General Assembly by what is known as a General Appropriation bill, which is framed by the Appropriation committee.

Appropriations for hospitals, asylums, jails and the other state institutions come from the general fund. This fund, or taxes, are provided by state taxes, paid almost entirely by corporations and industries. Very few in Lawrence county pay a cent to this.

The average citizen, working for a living, owning his own home, and enjoying the benefits of the state aided institutions, does not pay a cent in direct taxes for the upkeep of them. Under the Pennsylvania system of taxation the average man pays no state taxes and even the so-called state tax on stocks he owns and money on deposit in banks, stays in the county where he pays it, and is actually a county tax, although set down as a state tax.

The Jameson Memorial Hospital gets an appropriation from the state of Pennsylvania on ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS A MONTH. In order to get this amount at least ELEVEN ABSOLUTELY FREE PATIENTS HAVE TO BE IN THE HOSPITAL EVERY DAY IN THE MONTH. If that number are not in an amount in proportion is deducted. There are always from TWELVE TO FIFTEEN FREE PATIENTS in the hospital ALL THE TIME and many of them maternity cases.

After the State Auditor goes over the books and finds that a patient has been treated free who is able to pay he will not allow for it and somebody else has to pay it. The hospital has no money, so figure out who pays it.

Since the Jameson Memorial Hospital has been open the cost per day in keeping patients, that is the average per diem cost for the keeping of all patients has been $6.10. When more patients are in it will be less.

The States only allows THREE DOLLARS PER DAY.

All free patients are in the wards and they get all the x-ray, medical, laboratory and everything the highest pay patient gets for three dollars a day.

All pay ward patients get the same wonderful service for $3 a day.

No person in Lawrence county ever gave the old Shenango Valley hospital or the new Jameson Hospital One Cent on a "Tag Day." Neither one of those institutions ever held a "Tag Day."

No public request has ever been made for funds for the Jameson Memorial Hospital. Less than twenty five local citizens and some corporations raised about Sixty Thousand Dollars which were needed to open the hospital after it was turned over to the board of trustees by Mrs. Jameson. This money was used for the needed equipment. Many of the rooms were furnished by people who asked for that privilege. The hospital also was given some wonderful help by local people.

The Woman's Guild of the Jameson Memorial Hospital held a membership campaign, charging a dollar for membership. This money was used to buy linens and other needed things for the hospital.

Not one word has been said about public subscriptions so far, but that does not deter anyone from helping support the wonderful hospital so graciously handed over to the people of Lawrence county as their very own. FREE!

Answer To Question No. 6

We have an idea after what has been written in this article it will not look as if it was necessary for any one unable to pay for hospital treatment to shoot themselves to get it.

How Patients Enter Hospitals

The doctors in charge of patients make plans for their entry into the hospital in all medical and surgical cases. In cases of accidents any person taking the victims there hand them over to the hospital authorities and they are taken care of without question and receive the best care that can be given them.

There is a certain formality which has to be gone through before any patients gets into any hospital, sanitarium, jail or anything else of a public nature. It has to be in order that the proper information can be given to those in charge of such institutions so the proper attention can be given.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Soliciting Auto Rides Is Harmful

On any school afternoon that I pass by a certain street I am forced to turn my car to the left of its proper course at times to avoid hitting boys from 12 to 18 years, fine looking, well dressed boys they are, with their right thumb out, giving it a familiar jerk.

Do I stop to take them in? No. Not even when I am alone in the car? Certainly not. I should never want any one to pick up my boy if he had so reduced himself to chronic beggary. I have told my children that I hoped they would be too good to make traffic paupers of themselves. (Impractical to command a child concerning anything in your absence.) I should about as soon see them beg for food. It were about as honorable and less dangerous, to the child and the adults concerned.

Suppose you stop to pick up one of these thumb-jerkers. You hold up the line of traffic, and if you stop after suddenly, as the lad expects you to do, there are some bumpers bruised, perhaps some human bodies sitting in the car. Occasionally one of these boys is hit.

Suppose no one is injured. Even then there is caused, particularly at busy hours when thumb-jerkers are about, great deal of inconvenience to travelers in cars.

I am most concerned about the moral factors. Think of what it means to the character of the lad, with the bus or trolley car easily available, and with ample fare money in his pocket, probably, to be able, by the jerking of his thumb, to command a passerby who has no obligation to him whatsoever, to stop and lose his own time, to carry this young fellow in his automobile as far as the lad wishes to go. How is such a child going to learn a healthy notion about his place among other people; how is he to acquire a whole some respect for others' rights?

I used to pick up some of the lads. But rarely do I remember one who really acted gratefully. He just took it for granted that it was my privilege and duty to take him in. I owed him a ride. I had a car and he had none. His attitude was like that of the beggars whom my mother used to feed from her back door on the farm.

I wish parents and preachers, Sunday school and day teachers, were to talk of this practice as an individual and social sin. I wish some high school principal were to have his students make several posters to be put about his school, with the picture of a thumb-jerker, under which appear the legend, "A modern pauper."

Then if all dads who drive cars and have boys of junior and senior high school age were to tell those boys what this practice really means, appealing to them not to be beggars, and then resolve never to pick up one of these thumbers, the nuisance could be stamped out pretty quickly.

What shall we say about the college lad who pretends to walk home at vacation time but who really counts on being given ample lifts?

Write the editor or your paper your views on this question.

Can't Find Attorney Who Does Not Favor Improved Court House

With perhaps one exception, Lawrence county's court house is the most antiquated public building in the county, according to Attorney Roy W. Hazen, who has unqualifiedly declared himself as being in favor of a new court house.

"For years we have struggled along with the present building," said Mr. Hazen, "and everybody who knew anything about the court house knew that it was unfit for public service. Each year has seen it further antiquated and we have been going along telling each other how unfit it was and doing nothing towards getting anything done on it."

Why Not Start

"I remember hearing Theodore Roosevelt speak one time in which he was describing the building of the Panama Canal. He said, for years Congress has been talking about such a project, but this time we just went ahead and built it. The same applies

Refining Company Wants Damages As Accident Result

case of the Atlantic Refining Co. against William M. Clark is on trial before Judge Hildebrand in court today. This is a case in which it is claimed that a truck belonging to the Atlantic Refining Co. was struck by the car of the defendant on the Greenville-Sharon road near Clarksburg. Plaintiff was driving north, while the defendant was coming south, when the cars collided. It is alleged by the plaintiff that Clark was driving at a high rate of speed over the center of the road and that the accident was his fault. This is denied by Clark. Plaintiff's truck was badly damaged.

Suit is brought for $1,723.45 of which amount about $552 is asked for damages to truck and load and the balance for depreciation in value and time it was out of service.

The Star of Wales Lodge No. 60, True Ivorites of America, held the first meeting of the year, Saturday evening, January 11. The attendance was very good and great work was performed by those present. A talk was given concerning the increasing of the membership of the lodge and various plans were introduced. The feeling was to make the year 1930 the most successful year in the history of the lodge.

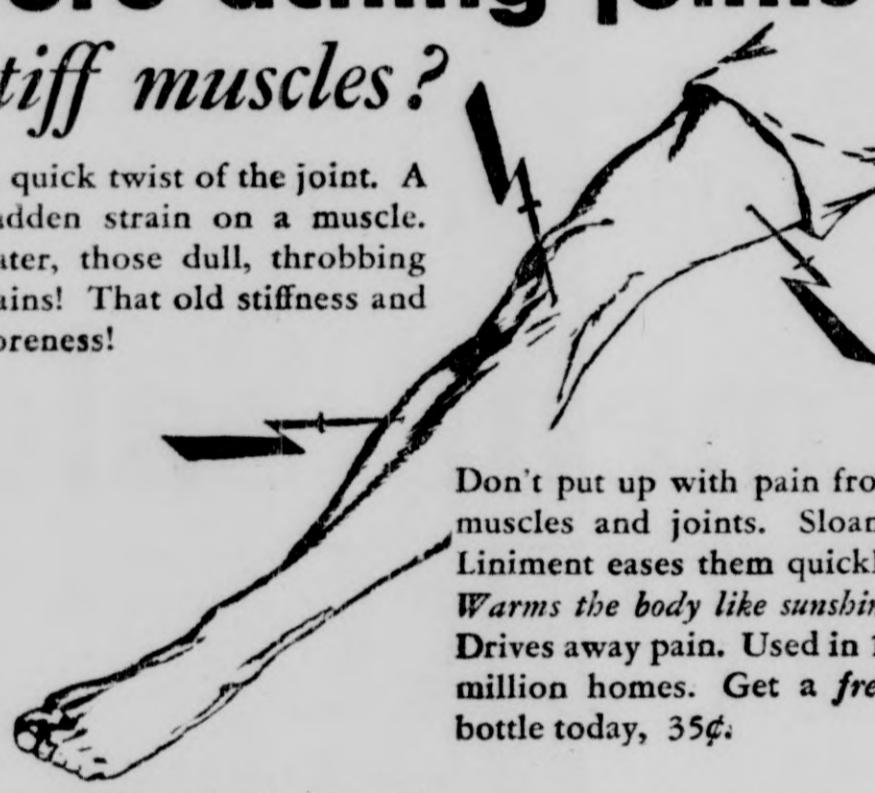

The present president of the high office, Evan Hopkins would like to see the Star of Wales in the front line this year. He has been the Grand Vice President of the Ivorite board and next year he is expected to fill the highest chair, the grand president of the order.

Thomas D. Thomas, the financial secretary of the lodge, gave his yearly report which was very encouraging. Brother John Harvard reported the sick members of the lodge, all of which were in the same conditions as before.

Word has come from Cleveland, O., to the effect that Mrs. Henry Badger has recovered from her late illness and is able to be around once again. Mrs. Badger entertained the people of Cleveland with her wonderful voice and her lovely playing. Mrs. Badger was a former resident of New Castle.

A Fine Record of Fair Dealing

Adjusting losses is but one part of Stock Fire Insurance service. Naturally, in the mind of the assured, it looms large when loss occurs. At that time it is the most important process of all.

Every day the adjuster meets people who have sustained losses against which they were insured. Whether greeted cordially or gruffly, the adjuster must handle his problem with tact and fairness. The reputation of his company goes with him into every case.

A Million Fire Loss Reports

Nearly a million reports of fire loss are filed annually with the Stock Fire Insurance companies. Of the claims arising from these reports, more than 99 percent are adjusted without resort to litigation; a splendid tribute to the fairness of the contracting parties—the public and the fire insurance companies.

The value of good will in the adjusting of losses is as much appreciated by the Stock Fire Insurance companies as it is in the acquisition of business.

Public Confidence

The records afford ample evidence of the sincere purpose of adjusters to settle claims in keeping with the rights of all concerned.

To the fair dealing of its adjusters Stock Fire Insurance owes a large measure of the public confidence which it enjoys.

WHO WANTS MONKEY VINE SEED?

Editor and News Readers:

It is a new vine, said to come from Japan, anyway it does not matter. It is a beautiful vine, rapid climber, dense foliage, but never blooms, yet it produces seed, in size, from a kernel of corn to the size of a hen's egg, the largest seed are grown on 3 year old roots. Frost kills the vine, but roots kept from freezing, awns up a stronger vine in the spring. There now, that's that, and I will send any one or two or three of the seed if you will send postage. That will give you a start, then save and plant the seed another year and you will have seed for others. Mind the seed I will send are not the largest size, for I have only grown the vine one season, but they are the size of marbles.

The friend who gave me my seed, keeps all the large ones and sells them for 10¢ a piece, the others, she gave me, thus my supply. Do not confuse the vine with "Dutchman's Pipe" as it is entirely different. It is sometimes called the "Monkey Vine", which non de plume fits very well as often the picture of a monkey's face is seen on the large seed. Be sure and give a plain address, it is as necessary as the postage. I like to do these things, until I get an unreadable address, then I get cold feet. Last year I gave flower seed, but worse than a poor address, some wrote "Send on the seed I will pay the postage here". Guess they took me for a crook of some sort. It was the one step between the sublime and the ridiculous; did they expect me to pay for the song and then sing it. So I did not send it as Uncle Sam does not carry parcels for his health.

This vine will grow indoors and if given a support, will grow to the top of the window. I might wait until spring to give you the seed, also several varieties of flower seed, but for two reasons I might not be able to do so.

HOUSE BURNS

One of the old landmarks burned down. It was the Hoagland house located on the river front and was occupied by Mrs. Wesson, who was in New Castle when the fire occurred. It is thought that a defective flue was the cause of the fire. Some of the furniture was saved but on account of no water being handy the citizens of the town were unable to save the building.

85% of America's Leading Hospitals now use the same absorbent of which Kotex is made

Here is medical approval which dictates every woman's choice of sanitary protection . . . it must be hygienically safe, it must be more comfortable than any substitute

Kotex absorbs (by actual test) five times quicker, five times greater, than an equal amount of surgical cotton. It takes up 16 times its own weight in moisture and distributes that moisture evenly, not all in one concentrated place.

For perfect daintiness, Kotex deodorizes completely and thoroughly.

Kotex may be worn on either side—doesn't have to be used in a certain specified way. That makes adjustment easier, protection safer. Any way you use it, Kotex is always comfortable and safe.

Since it is so easy to buy Kotex and the price is so low, no woman need consider using anything else. Her choice is made for her by the medical profession. Surely, if they find Kotex absorbent best—even in the most dangerous operations—it cannot fail to be best for constant use.

Why smart women prefer Kotex

It is significant that 9 out of 10 women in smarter circles today use Kotex. They find that it permits a freedom and poise hard to acquire otherwise. That's because Kotex really fits. It is designed, you see, to conform . . . shaped at the corners and tapered.

And here is the reason so many women first began to use Kotex: it is easily disposable. That fact alone has helped to change the hygienic habits of millions of women the world over!

KOTEX IS SOFT . . .

1 Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, fleecy softness that lasts for hours.

2 Safe, secure...keeps your mind at ease.

3 Rounded and tapered corners—for inconspicuous protection.

4 Deodorizes...safely, thoroughly, by a special process.

5 Disposable completely, instantly.

Heydler Takes Stand Against Ball Players Entering Fight Ring

National League Prexy Says That Ball Players Must Give Up Prize Fighting

Lands William Wrigley For Stand Taken In Shires

Wilson Fistic Argument

By DAVID J. WALSH

International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Starting with the off season of 1930-31, Art Shires, the great big adenos man of the White Sox, and other ball players who fancy themselves as pugilists, probably will do all of their fighting at home over the breakfast table.

President John A. Heydler of the National league informed the writer in an exclusive statement today.

Baseball, he said, was sure to bar the boxer-ball player, not only as a protection for its investment in the players but to protect the player himself.

"Good," he said, today when William Wrigley, Jr., had warned Hack Wilson he might be traded elsewhere if he persisted in meeting Shires in the ring. "That's fine. Mr. Wrigley is merely acting within his legal rights as all contracts expressly state that the player can't indulge in outside sports without the owner's consent. I doubt if that consent has been forthcoming in any instance so far. We could break this up right now, if we didn't feel that the thing was just a phase and had about run its course."

"Anyhow, it had better do all of its running now, for I predict it won't get the chance hereafter."

"Common Sense."

The National league president claimed to be speaking neither for baseball in general nor for his own organization. He said he was speaking only for "common sense."

"The clause forbidding this activity is in the contract and all we have to do is insist upon it being obeyed," he added. "After what has happened this year, I can't conceive of any owner who won't be very insistent on this point."

He thereupon listed the following as common-sense objections to ball players pretending to be fighters or vice versa, as the case may be:

"That so-called 'bad hands' are both the hallmark of the man who doesn't know how to fight and the end of the ball player's career; that blindness, partial or actual, is not unknown to the ring and that the players so affected would become, perhaps, useless to baseball; that, if not otherwise injured, the boxer-ball player jeopardized his health by assimilating body punches that might slow him up on the field of play; and, finally, that his exhibitions were absurdities and therefore reacted unfavorably upon the profession he was supposed to ornament."

Don't Want to Interfere.

"We don't want to interfere with the off season activities of our men any more than we can help," said he. "But when these activities threaten our investment in the man and the man himself, it is time to call a halt."

It took the Boston club some time and money, for example, to develop young Spohrer. Why should its interest in this man be placed in a compromising position by his thoughtlessness? It is surprising to me that the players themselves don't think of this. It has taken them so long to get where they are and yet they want to jeopardize this position for a few dollars."

"They would do well to seek the advice of Frank Frisch, who played basketball one winter and found that the pounding on the hard floors had begun to tell on him by the middle of the following season. Thereafter, he wisely refrained from indulging in an activity that threatened his real livelihood."

"This is common, every day horse sense, but if our players refuse to think in these terms, they leave us no alternative but to set to and do their thinking for them."

Skinner, well known farmer, is dead as a result of being kicked by a cow.

When he failed to return in the usual time, his wife became alarmed and summoned neighbors, who found the prostrate form between two cows in one of the stalls.

Examination disclosed that the man had suffered a broken collar bone, while several ribs had been fractured, one apparently having punctured the lungs.

As the suicide letters pile up, all from young things, who haven't yet got a start in life, and I wonder how I am going to help them most, I pick up the evening paper. There, in big type, is the story of a letter carrier, who carried mail for 46 years, and who, on retiring thinks this is a good old world after all. He thinks its full of nice folks.

"I'll bet any one of you suicide girls would think that was a pretty monotonous life, carrying a sack of mail all those years, and he says he never met a girl through gossiping on door steps, or stopping to chat. The rules were strict and he observed them. He has a quiet, kindly way with him and all his associates love him.

When you complain that nobody loves, think of Bennie the Postman, 65 years old, always kindly and cheerful with hosts of friends. They gave him a farewell dinner and he blushed and was happier than ever.

Dennie probably never thought of whether or not he was abused because he couldn't get a bigger job and more money. Probably he occurred to me to run against fate because somebody wasn't kind to him. He took the attitude that it was a pretty good world, and his mood was infectious. Moods are, you know.

If you look sad, feel abused and inferior, and wish you could die, think about Bennie. I'll bet he had more trouble than you ever had. But he always said, "That poor fellow next door is worse off," and he made the best of it.

Once I knew a woman who spent her time doing nice little things to make life easier for her friends and neighbors. She didn't have money. She lived in a little room with gas and a gas burner. She was very happy because all the children in her neighborhood came to her with the troubles, and whenever anybody in the vicinity had marital differences, she managed to carry nice stories back and forth till she got them together again. She didn't think it was anything much to do.

"Phew," she would say, "they are nice folks."

Then when everybody was all nicely fixed up, she'd creep off to her lonely room to bed. And she always

FAST RACE HORSES WERE RAISED AT FAIR GROUND

Farm That Once Was Stock Farm To Be Sold On Friday, January 17

SITUATION IS IDEAL FOR DAIRY BUSINESS

"Director," one of the fastest race horses of all time, and "St. Vincent," another that circled the beaten track almost as fast, were two of the stock of fine race horses which Charles Clark raised at what was formerly the Locust Grove farm, but what now comprises the 112-acre plot which the New Castle Agricultural association will sell to the highest bidder on Friday, January 17, at 2 p.m.

Older residents today recalled some of their outstanding recollections about the fine farm, located directly in front of the New Castle fair grounds and running a considerable distance along the Harlan road.

Mr. Clark had an ideal stock farm, with a race track around it on which to train his pacers and trotters. Many remember that a fine stock of horses was raised but the names of "Director" and "St. Vincent" are remembered more easily because of records they established.

Mr. Clark sold the farm to Robert McAfee some time later and Mr. McAfee, a former secretary of state of Pennsylvania, occupied it until about 1918.

J. W. Hartwell and John S. Crowl who form the committee in charge of the sale, spoke highly of the suitable location today. They mentioned that during fair time a market large enough to consume the owner's entire products is located right at his door. An improved road leads into New Castle and if for any reason marketing in the city is desired it could be done conveniently.

On the farm are a 10-room house and bank barn equipped with running water and electric lights, the most modern equipment. The attic of the house is finished and has an outdoor kitchen.

The farm land is well drained and well fertilized with plenty of ideal pasture and water. Should a man wish to establish a dairy farm or race horse training or stock farm he would have to go far if the fair ground site could be improved upon.

Mr. Hartwell stated today that possession will be given the owner on April 1.

Information regarding the sale can be obtained by inquiring of either Mr. Hartwell or Mr. Crowl.

Modern Woodmen Installation Open

Pittsburgh Official Of Organization To Make Chief Address Next Monday

Open installation of officers of the New Castle Camp, No. 5269, Modern Woodmen of America, will be held on Monday, January 20.

An entertainment will be staged in conjunction with it.

A novelty dance and song sketches by local entertainers has been arranged by the committee in charge, namely: Ira D. Campbell, chairman; C. H. Wood and Jessie McCormick.

The principal address of the evening will be brought by D. N. Hrothot, special deputy at large, M. W. A., at Pittsburgh.

Following this event will come a large class adoption for new members on Monday, January 27. Thirty-seven candidates have already applied for membership from C. E. Lauer, who is conducting a 90-day campaign among the M. W. A. camps.

Open House Will Be Held By Legion

Short Business Session Will Precede Program Of Entertainment This Evening

Open house for members only, will be observed by Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion, at the Legion Home Association building this evening. A short business session will precede the program of the evening, starting promptly at 8 o'clock.

Some important business will come up for discussion at this time, as plans are now being made for the appearance here soon of National Commander Bodamer, and a mammoth banquet for Legionnaires and interested friends is being planned.

The membership of the post is now over the 300 mark. Commander H. H. Rosenthal announces, and prospects for greatly exceeding the 1929 membership are bright.

The device is based on chemical rather than magnetic properties, and is attached on the outside of the house between the aerial and the receiving apparatus.

Often a vivid example is more helpful than precepts and you might try setting a seed catalogue out in the garden to give the dahlia something to shoot at.

Cuban Sugar Firms Stir Up Hostility

Lobby Committee Finds President Hoover Not Guilty Of Any Impropriety

Many Forces At Work To Block Increased Tariff On Sugar; Considerable Money Spent

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Efforts of Cuban sugar firms to "stir up hostility to the United States in Latin America" were branded as the most reprehensible for a host of activities of groups working here in connection with a sugar tariff in a report made to the senate today by its lobby investigating committee.

The report specifically developed that no impropriety was found in activities in connection with which the name of President Hoover was brought into the inquiry.

Correspondence between H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Company, and associates, said the report, left the impression that the Cuban government itself was associated in this work.

The report, submitted to the Senate in the midst of debate on sugar rates in the pending tariff bill, found the sugar lobby the smoothest working and most liberally financed of any operating here. It included no recommendations for legislation. In general it was a summation of the work carried on by all the lobbies interested in sugar. Except for Lakin and the organizations working with him, the committee had no censure of the lobbying groups, except insofar as the charge of extensive lobbying work carried a shadow of criticism.

Much Money Spent

Forces working to block increases in the sugar tariff were found to have expended more in their campaign to influence legislation than their opponents. The low tariff advocates, according to the report, spent between $200,000 and $225,000. The groups "mobilizing opinion" for an increase in sugar tariff rates, the report continued, spent between $175,000 and $200,000.

"The pending of the tariff bill," said the report, "has brought into existence a lobby interested in the sugar schedule, perhaps more perfectly organized and liberally financed than

State Supreme Court Refuses Flick Appeal

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—The Pennsylvania Supreme court will not permit Edmund Flick cashier of the Citizens National bank of Pleasantville, Venango county who is under a sentence of 2 to 4 years in the Western Penitentiary for forgery of a $1,230 promissory note to file an appeal, court officials revealed today.

The conviction and sentence of Flick was upheld last November 22 in the Superior court. Flick was also accused of instigating the forcible entry into the bank and the firing of the building and the bank records but he was acquitted of these charges.

The important witness against him was Sylvester Watson a negro who pleaded guilty to breaking into the bank and firing the records. Watson claimed he was hired by Flick to try to make way with the forged promissory note.

Plan Scouring Of Northern Wastes For Two Airmen

Search Will Be Resumed In Far North For Ben Eielson And Mechanic

(International News Service) NOME, Alaska, Jan. 14.—With their plane tuned up and ready, Pilot Matt Niemenen and Major Deckhard today awaited the arrival of Capt. T. M. (Pat) Reid from Nulato before starting toward Siberia in search of Lieut. Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, Arctic fliers.

Reid, accompanied by mechanics James Hutchison and William Hughes, is expected here hourly. Reid's plane was forced down in the Ungalik river region and the fliers were missing seven days before they finally took off and flew to Nulato Saturday.

Reid and Niemenen plan to fly toward Siberia from Eielson and Borland who vanished November 9 while flying between North Cape, Siberia and Teller, Alaska.

Mrs. Cubbison leaves two sisters here, Miss Lucy Holland and Mrs. Margaret Clark. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Its age is a private matter

It is very difficult to discover, by its appearance, how old a Lincoln is. Lincoln believes in making automobiles so beautiful that they are always modern—so durable that they simply won't wear out. The age of a Lincoln is one's concern—least of all its owner's. On the boulevards a Lincoln of last season and the newest model share honors equally with Lincolns years older than either.

So fine is this car that a year or so of use does not perceptibly detract from any of its splendid qualities. Lincoln owners are often men who can, and do, provide the best professional care for their cars. Sometimes such well-kept cars are available at very attractive prices from Lincoln dealers. The wisdom of investing in such a motor car is quite evident, and shrewd buyers are quick to take advantage of the opportunity.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

In the new Radio-Phonograph Combination, Stromberg-Carlson presents a modern instrument in which records are played electrically through the audio system of the receiver and the Electro-Dynamic Speaker, with all the tonal characteristics which have made Stromberg-Carlson pre-eminent.

Now, your favorite recorded music can be heard with radio's living naturalness — without suggestion of an intervening medium between the recording artist and your ear. A new tone beauty, dormant even in the finest of modern records, is brought out by this new instrument — product of laboratories long experienced in the science of telephone acoustics.

This Radio-Phonograph Combination, together with a new low Console No. 652, rounds out the Stromberg-Carlson line.

Today there is a Stromberg-Carlson for every taste and for every purse. Hear them today, or ask for a demonstration under your own home conditions.

EGYPT'S PRINCE-POET HONORED IN DEATH

CAIRO, Jan. 14.—The prince-poet of Egypt is dead.

Prince Haidar Pazi, cousin to King

Faud and one of the best known and loved members of the royal family of Egypt, who has just died, had made his name renowned throughout French speaking civilization by the quality of his verse.

Several of his most coveted French literary prizes have gone to him. His "L'Homme Hereux" won the Languedoc award, while his best known work is probably "Les Roses En-sanglanteries."

AN ENTIRELY NEW LINE

A great many people have been looking forward to this announcement.

They know that Durant Motors is now controlled by one of the ablest groups of automobile executives and engineers in the world. They know, too, the vast physical resources of the Durant plants.

It was obvious that this combination of character and talent and tools would presently result in a line of motor cars of exceptional distinction and value.

These cars are now in production.

Their beauty may confidently be left to your own exacting taste. Their superior roominess and restfulness are instantly and impressively apparent.

They bring a new response to the throttle, a new thrill to the wheel — as you are cordially invited to demonstrate to yourself.

Long life and low maintenance cost are built into their every fibre — as everyone would expect who is familiar with the reputation of the builders.

These new Durants, in other words, are not just another line of motor cars.

They are precisely the kind of cars that several millions of people have learned to anticipate from Durants' executive management — A distinguished contribution to better motoring.

Mission Reports December Work

Activity During Holiday Period
Unusually Brisk; Give Month's Review

A review of activities at the City Rescue Mission during the period from December 1, 1929 to January 1, is given in the monthly report of the superintendent, Rev. B. J. Watkins. A true manifestation of the valuable aid that is now being given by the mission can be seen in the detailed resume below:

December 1929 Activities

Twenty-four mission services, 4 Sunday school services, 2 mothers' and girls' sewing classes, 1 church service conducted, 1 funeral service, 12 persons were prayed for in the mission and in hospitals, 83 Gospels of John given out, 150 investigations made, 90 Christmas baskets of food, 968 meals furnished, 434 beds furnished, 315 free baths, 9 odd jobs secured, 75 donations of clothing received, 8 donations of furniture received, 251 families or individuals received clothing and 16 families or individuals were given furniture.

Clothing Given Out

Men: Seven overcoats, 2 raincoats, 14 coats and vests, 4 suits, 17 pair trousers, 3 sweaters, 19 suits of underwear, 18 shirts, 13 pair of shoes, 4 pair of overshoes, 22 pairs of socks, 1 hat, 1 cap and 5 neckties.

Boys: One suit of clothing, 2 coats, 4 pair of trousers, 5 waist coats and 4 suits of underwear.

How much did the Lincoln Memorial, Washington, cost? When was it dedicated?

Three million dollars. May 30, 1922.

Which had the longer run in New York, "Show Boat" or "Whoopie"?

"Show Boat."

When did Benjamin Franklin die?

In 1790, aged 84.

On what did Gen. Goethals base his objection, so often referred to, to government boards of all sorts?

"All boards are long, narrow and wooden." —Gen. Goethals.

What did Secretary of the Navy Adams mean when he declared that "The battleship is the most economical way of throwing high explosives about?"

He meant that so many smaller war vessels would be required to accomplish a single battleship's equivalent in destruction that their total cost would exceed the battleship's.

Why do the newspapers spell most Chinese names in so many different ways?

The Chinese symbols for words do not represent spelling according to western ideas, but are simply a "laundry mark" to a word. Many of the words themselves are almost unpronounceable by the average occidental. Translating these we are capable of making it largely a matter of individual judgment, with no particular rules.

The English have a sense of humor, but the new Britannica's article on baseball is no funnier than lots of stuff you see in ordinary comic weeklies.

Gladys May Parks Placed On Trial

Woman Accused Of Slaying Two Children Goes On Trial For Life In Camden, N. J.

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Gladys May Parks, former cabaret performer, went on trial Monday on the charge of murdering her niece Dorothy Rogers, four years old, and her nephew, Timothy Rogers, 20 months old. The trial was begun before Supreme Court Justice Frank T. Lloyd and a jury in criminal court.

The suburban-haired defendant appeared pale and visibly nervous when she came into court on the arm of Anna Moffett, a special constable. Her appearance was in marked contrast to the stoid indifference she exhibited throughout the many hours of grilling concerning the brutal slaying of the little children.

Start taking Kruschen Salts — that's the common-sense way to reduce, but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do — they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed.

As a result, instead of languishing yourself in a chair every few moments and letting flabby fat accumulate on you, letting an urge for activity that keeps you moving around do the things you've always wanted to do and need to do to keep you in good condition.

Then watch the pounds slide off.

Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date "Food for Youth." Take one half teaspoonful a glass of hot or cold water tomorrow morning and every morning — they're tasteless that way, and if they don't change your taste, just add a little sugar and get the same price you paid for them. Is it true, several persons ask, that the government is building a new highway called the George Washington Memorial Boulevard? Yes, it is being constructed between Washington and the home of the first president at Mt. Vernon, Va. Costing $4,000,000, it is to be opened on the 200th anniversary of the birth of Washington in 1932.

How big is a battleship of today? Around 35,000 tons. Largest trans-Atlantic passenger liners are 59,000 tons.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

Mac Arthur Resumes His Advance

THE CAPTURE OF MALOLOS, THE CAPITAL OF THE INSURGENTS, BY THE AMERICAN FORCES (MARCH 31, 1899), DID NOT BRING THE FILIPINO INSURRECTION TO AN END. AGUINALDO SKILFULLY BROUGHT OFF HIS WHOLE ARMY AND WHEN MACARTHUR RESUMED HIS ADVANCE UP THE RAILWAY, APRIL 24, THE AMERICAN GENERAL FOUND HIS WAY CONTESTED MORE FIERCELY THAN EVER.

MACARTHUR PUSHED ON DETERMINEDLY, THROUGH A COUNTRY CUT BY NUMEROUS WATER-COURSES, EVERY STREAM AND BRIDGE DEFENDED ON THE FURTHER SIDE BY THE FILIPINOS. AIDED BY THE GUNS OF AN ARMORED TRAIN, THE AMERICANS FORCED A CROSSING OF THE QUINQUA AND BAG-BAG RIVERS AND PRESSED ON TOWARD CALUMPIT, DRIVING THE ENEMY BEFORE THEM.

WHEN THE BROAD AND DEEP RIO GRANDE EFFECTIVELY BARRED THE ADVANCE OF THE COLUMN (APRIL 27), TWO INTREPID VOLUNTEERS SWAM THE RIVER UNDER A HEAVY FIRE FROM THE INSURGENTS, AND CARRIED A LONG ROPE TO THE OTHER SIDE, BY WHICH MEANS RAFTS LOADED WITH SOLDIERS WERE FERRIED ACROSS.

MAY 4TH, MACARTHUR'S MEN REACHED SAN FERNANDO, AGUINALDO'S THIRD CAPITAL. A LARGE PART OF BULACAN PROVINCE HAD NOW FALLEN INTO THE HANDS OF THE AMERICANS, AND THE INSURGENT ARMY, BEATEN IN EVERY ENCOUNTER, FLED INTO THE MOUNTAINS.

TITANS WIN SECOND CONFERENCE GAME

Westminster Tops Geneva In Hectic Floor Game 22-20

Another Close Finish Gives Westminster Edge Over Geneva; Game Played Last Night At New Wilmington Thrills Some 2,000 Fans; O'Donovan And Considine Best Bets In Titan Lineup; Ransom And Manning Keep Geneva In Running; Westminster Now Has Two Tri-State Conference Victories In Bag.

By "BUGS" WALTHER

The Titans came through again. This time Geneva College with a rather well put together floor squad fell the sharp fangs of defeat, as the giant Westminster basketball team staged another of those hair-line finishes to boast of a 22 to 20 verdict. It was a Tri-State Conference game. The battle enacted at the United Presbyterian school gymnasium last night had the fans, some 2,000 of them, kind of wowed.

Field Goals Scarce

For a time it looked like Coach Johnny Lawthers boys were in for an evening of high scoring. Not so very long after the game started the Westminster team was out in front with a score of 10 to 4. But Geneva came to life, and by the end of the first half the score stood at 12 to 8. With the Titans still four points to the good. It was a battle from the foul line in the first stanza with Westminster caging 6 out of 9 tries, and Geneva kicking in with 4 out of 5. Field goals were as scarce as pennies in the jeans of John D. Rockefeller. Captain "Babe" O'Donovan had a couple of heaves that plunked through the net, and Delehuntly had one field goal. Manning and Martin had the field goals that kept the Beaver Valley boys from feeling as if the first half hadn't been fought in.

Titans Best Passers

The first half found the Westminster team outpassing the visitors. Geneva had the most shots at the basket, but they didn't hold their tongue in the correct manner or something. Now that we recall it, that Geneva team boasts of no pygmies either, it was a contest between two teams composed of quite tall boys, and the passing and teamwork was nice to watch.

Second Conference Win

It was Westminster's second win in the Tri-State chase, and a sinister warning was sounded throughout the district to "Watch out for this Titan Team", and to get enough points the first half if you want to win. These neck and neck finishes are great for the nerves, this seems to be the rage with the Westministers this season.

If you like basketball that game to be played down at Beaver Falls should fill the bill. That's all.

New Castle-Franklin Maidens Play Tie

Local High Girls Team Holds Franklin Maidens To Tie In Fast Game

New Castle high girls' basketball team traveled to Franklin, Pa., on Saturday night and held the Franklin high lassies to a 14-14 tie in a fast and interesting floor contest. The local maidens held the lead until the final minute, when Franklin scored to tie the score.

For New Castle Kraft and Mears were the outstanding performers, while Nicklin and Schruers were the best for the Franklin team. At the half the local red and black cagers led, 9-7.

The summary of the game follows:

New Castle—14. Franklin High—14. Douthett F. Schruers Kaufman F. Nicklin Carson C. Williams Morris S.C. Walker Mears G. Myers Parker G. Bruns Substitutions: New Castle—Kraft, Boden; Franklin—None. Field goals: Kraft 4, Douthett, Schruers 3, Nicklin 2. Fouls: New Castle, 5 out of 9; Franklin, 3 out of 7. Referee: Karel. Scorekeeper: Miss Mary Raney, New Castle.

Timekeeper: Miss Hilda Boden, New Castle.

Considine Breaks Tie

"Danny" Considine, the Ohio young man, broke the ice by caging a foul try, making the score 17 to 16, in favor of the Blue and White clan. Brownlee was fouled by Montgomery in a pileup under the basket and was so done up by the contact that he missed a couple of foul tries. The Lock Haven boy made up for missing the

Three Fast Games At "Y" Monday In Two Floor Leagues

First Baptists, Wesley M. E., And New Castle Boosters Take Victories

Three good basketball games were played on the Y. M. C. A. floor on Monday night. Two games in the Church league and one in the City league.

In the first game of the bill the First Baptists handed the Mahoning M. E. quintet a drubbing 33 to 13. At the end of the half the score favored the Baptists 14 to 6 through the fine work of A. Wallace, Brenner and Pittaway. In the final half the Baptists ran away with their opponents. T. Wallace and A. Uram had high scoring honors. Bobosky, Spike and Llewellyn were the best for the losers.

The Wesley M. E. team gave the Central Presbyterians a pasting 20 to 15 in the second game on the program. At the half the score favored the Wesley team 19 to 6. The Presbyterians played good ball in the second half but were not equal to the task. Mottinger, Hughes and W. Rech led the attack for Wesley. For the Presbyterians the work of Sargent, Reric and Campbell was a feature.

The New Castle Boosters gave the Pennsylvania team a neuterizing 71 to 20 in the City league game. At the end of the first half the score favored the Boosters 31 to 3. Bruce Franklin carried off high scoring honors with 13 baskets to set a new record for the year at the "Y" court. Kulich had eight buckets and Alexander kicked in with six. The Booster team simply ran wild. Turk and C. Culbertson played the best ball for the Pennsy star in almost every round.

Kiwanians Hear Talk By Blind Student

Interesting Address Given To Clubmen By Loy Sumner, Oratorical Winner Of Geneva

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—One of the most interesting addresses ever heard by the Kiwanis club of this city was that last night of Loy Sumner, a blind student and winner of a recent oratorical contest in Geneva college. He gave a talk on "The Star of the Age." He told with vividness of the historical powers of the Roman, Grecian and other empires, of their rise and decline and the reason thereof, coming to the present day powers, and stated that in order to keep this power more attention should be paid to things spiritual rather than material. One paragraph worth special mention is "Love must replace hatred—cooperation rather than competition—internationalism rather than national—humanitarianism rather than selfishness."

After his talk several interested clubmen asked him concerning his methods in getting his lessons, and he explained the Braebel system of reading with the raised letters. He also stated that in getting college assignments it was mostly through someone reading the lessons to him. It was later explained that his mother read to him by the hour in an effort to make his college studies as easy as possible for him.

Mrs. Ferd Zeigler Entertains Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Members of the Monday Night Bridge Club enjoyed a meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Ferd Zeigler of the Pittsburgh Circle.

Three tables of bridge were in play and special guests were Mrs. Dave Evans and Mrs. Joseph Moorhead. At the conclusion of a pleasant evening score honors went to Mrs. J. W. Humphrey and Mrs. E. B. Baker.

Later delicious refreshments made their appearance, concluding a delightful meeting. In two weeks Mrs. Harvey Aiken of Fourth street will entertain.

QUOTA CLUB

Small Son Of Mr. And Mrs. R. L. Perkins Dies Of Meningitis

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Little William Perkins, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Perkins of Wood street, concluded his brief span of life this morning at 3:30, a victim of spinal meningitis.

He was taken ill yesterday and in spite of all medical skill rushed to his bedside, he passed away. A lovely child, he made many friends, who deeply sympathized with Mr. and Mrs. Perkins over his death.

Funeral services take place Thursday afternoon from the home, with Rev. A. M. Stevenson officiating. Interment will be made in the local cemetery.

New Sports Club Is Formed Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—With a meeting conducted Monday evening in the Legion hall on Sixth street, 75 men combined to organize a rod and gun club here, which will endeavor to stock the counties, both Lawrence and Beaver, with game and fish. This club expects to annex many more members before it is much older, and will meet once monthly.

Election of officers took place last night as follows: President, Charles French; vice president, James A. Hayes; secretary, T. A. Gartley, and treasurer, Walter Gamble. The next meeting takes place the second Monday in February, although there may be a specially called session before that time.

L. Z. Johns Is Taken By Death

Prominent Resident Of Slippery Rock District Dies Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—L. Z. Johns, highly respected resident of the Slippery Rock district, passed away yesterday at five o'clock at his home. He had been ill since Christmas and death is thought to have been induced by old age.

Immediate survivors are his widow, Mrs. Isabel Johns; two sons, Sharp and Carl, and one daughter, Mrs. Harry B. Adams, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Funeral services are scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Slippery Rock church, with Rev. Paul Elliott officiating. Interment will be made in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

WILLING WORKERS
ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Willing Workers of the Lutheran church will meet Wednesday in the church for quilting.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Members of the Fortnight club will be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. Myron Gelbach of South Ellwood Heights.

Wednesday's Bill At "Y" Floor Is Quite Attractive

Central Christians' Toddy's And New Castle Boosters Will Play Games

Wednesday night is red-letter night at the Y. M. C. A. floor. Three fast games are on the bill. The Central Christians meet the Evergreen M. E. team of Youngstown. Toddy's battle the Shelby Tube Mill of Ellwood City and the New Castle Boosters meet the strong Greenville Drags.

The first game Wednesday will start at 7:30 o'clock.

The Central Christians are taking on a good team in the Ohio quintet and hope to come through with a victory. The Toddy team meets a good little team from the Shelby Tube Mill and the boys are looking forward to a rip snorting game.

The Boosters took the measure of the Greenville team at Greenville some weeks ago and hope to repeat the dose tomorrow night.

Slippery Rock High Girl Submits Outstanding Essay On "Safety First"

Winning third prize in a national essay contest on "Safety First," sponsored by the Highway Education board, at Washington, D. C., is the proud accomplishment of Miss Gladys Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Patterson, who reside in Worth township, Butler county. The announcement was made today.

Miss Patterson was an eighth grade student in the Zion school in Worth township when she penned the winning composition. She is now a student in the Slippery Rock high school.

As a recognition of her efforts, the board will present the Butler county girl with a bronze medal and five dollars in cash.

Singer Defeats Georgie Day In New York Ring

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Al Singer, the little buster of beaks from the New York Bronx, today had justified in part, at least, claims that he is the foremost contender for Sammy Mandell's world lightweight title. Singer showed plenty of pep and punch when he won last night on a technical knockout over Georgie Day, New Haven lightweight, at the St. Nicholas Club.

The referee stopped the unequal battle in the third round after Singer had almost put away the New Haven Italian in the first round and forced him to maintain a continued clinch in the second canto.

The customers registered disgust, dismay and disappointment as they witnessed the bout and the poor showing of Day discounted by some extent the ballyhoo of Singer's admirers.

Scratch On Hand Fatal To Youth

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Jan. 14.—A small scratch on a finger of his left hand, to which he paid but little attention, proved fatal to Leo George, 14, Waynesburg High school student, who died of blood poisoning as a result of infection which developed in the slight wound. The scratch was sustained by George two weeks ago, but his condition did not become critical until a few days before his death, when he was removed to a hospital for treatment.

SORDS POINTS

Lew Evades Jinx And Has Great Year

By JACK SORDS Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer

Lew Fones, Cleveland first baseman, is one major leaguer who seems to improve with age. He has been playing professional ball for ten years but never before has put on as stellar an exhibition as he did in 1929, when he led the American league batters and was chosen unofficially as the league's most valuable player.

Now Lew can afford to stop improving. In fact he can slip a bit and still make the Indians a dose of poison for the rest of the league next year.

Cleveland's only hope is that the brittle Portuguese keeps away from injury in 1930. Up to last season Fones was one of the most jinxed players in baseball. On almost every occasion when he was hitting a clip some accident would step up and check him.

With the Cincinnati Reds in 1924 he was going great when he hurt his shoulder sliding. That was the beginning of a lot of trouble.

The following year with the Phillips he was laid low by an injury to the same shoulder. It was thought that that was about the finish of Lew's throwing arm and he was sold to Newark. There he got by in fine style until the end of the season, when new injuries kept him on the bench for three weeks.

The jinx followed him to Cleveland and got the jump on him in the very first game of the 1928 campaign. On that occasion he collided with an outfielder and the old shoulder was rendered useless again. He played in only 75 games that year.

Even last season Lew couldn't manage to sneak through the season without something happening. He was out of the last four games as the result of another collision, this time with an umpire.

Now he is back in the game and has a chance to prove that he is still a valuable player.

Johnny McCoy, Buffalo bantam, won decision over Ernest Rosini, Rochester (10).

AT CHICAGO—Harry Dubinsky, Chicago, given decision over Ray Kiser, Tulsa, Okla. (7).

Union Girls Win In Preliminary Engagement With Franklin Girls, 32-7

Union junior high school's varsity lost to the Benjamin Franklin junior high team in a fast and exciting game played on the Franklin floor on Monday afternoon. The final score was Franklin 29, Union 9.

The visitors displayed exceptional teamwork, too much for Union. Teplica and Komic, Franklin forward and guard, respectively, led the scoring siege against their opposition.

In a preliminary to the boys' game Franklin's girls lost to the Union lassies by the score of 32-7. Patton and Frank were Union's outstanding players.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There's one nice thing about weather such as we're having. It always makes copy, and last night was good for a line or two in anybody's paper. At six thirty the fog had some of the down town streets blanketed, and the street lights looking murky and dim. At seven thirty the fog lifted and at eight o'clock the moon was cut doing his bit. Then some more fog and rain and tough driving, and by midnight the air was clear again, with the moon back of a screen. And once again that peculiar looking circle around the moon, not quite so large as the last time, but there. Will the amateur astronomers file their answers early.

With the Wickersham report now in and with Congress digesting it, we may get some solution of the crime problem. As to the matter of the Prohibition laws, the only way to enforce them is to enforce them, and if the commission cared to visit Lawrence county perhaps the idea of enforcement would be more clearly demonstrated.

Out on the streets of the city, the proposed plan of Mayor William H. Gillespie for a series of conferences looking towards prosperity is receiving favorable comment. The idea is a good one, and from the comment this column conductor has heard, Mayor Bill has hit an idea on the nose.

Too much sport Monday evening to get it all. Up at New Wilmington the

Railroad Company In Given Verdict

Why New Castle Mining And Clay Company Fought Suit Brought For Freight

In the case of the New York Central Railroad Company against The New Castle Mining and Clay Products Company, which was tried before Judge Hildebrand, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $314.64. The suit was brought for freight on cars of brick shipped by the Clay Products Company to Dolgentle, N. Y. The brick company fought the payment owing to peculiar circumstances surrounding the case.

When the brick, four cars, arrived at their destination, the contractor, O. L. Weidman, went to the railroad office and paid the freight bill which was presented to him.

Some time after the freight was paid by Weidman, the railroad company discovered that a mistake had been made on the rate, the cars having been billed at a lower rate than provided for in the schedule. Weidman was notified that he had not paid enough and was asked for the balance but never paid it.

It was not until about three years afterwards, according to the defense, that the brick company here was notified that the balance of the freight had not been paid. In the meantime Weidman had failed. The brick company alleged negligence on the part of the railroad company in waiting three years, claiming that if the company had been notified promptly that Weidman had refused to pay, the brick company would have had an opportunity to have collected from him.

It was claimed that since the railroad company had not given the brick company notice, it was evidence that the railroad company had elected to recover from Weidman. In the meantime Weidman had failed and the brick company, owing to the delay, had not been able to collect from him. The point involved was largely a matter of law as to when the railroad company should have notified the brick company.

Hold Another Bandit Suspect

Woman Taken At Nev. Kensington, Held Pending Investigation

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 14.—State police here today were holding a woman who gave her name as Mildred Anderson, 24, after she was taken into custody at a New Kensington hotel when it was reported that she might be Irene Schroeder, wanted at New Castle for the fatal shooting of Corporal Brady Paul of the State Highway Patrol.

After questioning the woman, police at the barracks here said they were almost certain that the woman was not Irene Schroeder, although she has blonde hair similar to that ascribed to the gun-woman who has succeeded in eluding police in the tri-state district for more than two weeks.

According to state police, the woman who gave her name as Mildred
Anderson said her home was in Birmingham, Ala., and that she came to Pittsburgh from that city with her husband.
When she was arrested at the hotel at New Kensington police said they found a blackjack and a gun in her room.

Although police admitted that it was doubtful that the Anderson woman was connected with the shooting of Paul, she had told several contradictory stories and that she would be held until they investigated her statements regarding her home in the surrounding state.

According to police, she said she was married at Birmingham and that her husband was in Pittsburgh today.
Police believe that she may be wanted in Birmingham or other cities in connection with several holdups.

The rumor that the Anderson woman was Irene Schroeder was not supported by statements of the state police, although they were somewhat reticent in giving out information.
They admitted, however, that the woman in custody does not resemble the blonde gun-woman except for a slight similarity in the color of her hair.

up her present sport at Plymouth Thursday evening, the American delegation will arrive in London by midnight, have a few hours sleep on terra firma, and be ready to undertake the work in hand bright and early Friday morning.

It is understood that this alteration in the delegation's plans was the result of receipt of a wireless message from Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to Britain, urging that Stimson arrive in London with all possible speed.

Quite naturally the change in plans aroused considerable speculation as to the reasons why Ambassador Dawes urged Stimson to try and have the liner speeded up. So far as is known among observers aboard the vessel, there is no hitch in the substantial agreement already existent for extending the battleship building "holiday," and the cruiser agreement necessarily awaits tedious measuring by technical committees.

One reason advanced for the Thursday arrival was a desire for Secretary Stimson's counsel in the preliminary conversations concerning the Mediterranean agreement asked by the French government.

While General Dawes is fully conversant with the American position, the benevolent sloppiness of Secretary Stimson's position makes him an authoritative spokesman in so delicate a matter.

for the last two weeks, it sort of

also suffered minor injuries and Harry Powell, a mine worker, was cut and bruised.

The charge of dynamite was set off by a concealed battery hidden behind a clump of pine trees about 200 feet from the narrow gauge mine railroad track. When the improvised pay car's motor had passed over the section of track to which the battery was wired, the bandits slammed down the lever sending the current coursing through the dynamite.

A terrific explosion resulted, rock-ing the countryside. The splintered paycar, with its human load, was hurled into the air and thrown on its side. All of the men killed were mu-tiated. Their limbs were torn from their bodies, their heads and chests were crushed and the currency itself was spewed in wild confusion about the wreckage.

Man Witnesses Blast

Stewart Hettig, Lehigh Valley railroad section foreman who was walking his own tracks near the miner tracks, was the only man to witness the explosion. Hettig told police that shortly before the blast let go he had seen two men, strangers, lurking about the scene of the subsequent dynamiting.

Soonik, a one-armed guard, said that while he was lying dazed in the wreckage he saw a man run up to the trailer car from which the lid had been ripped by the force of the blast, stuff his pockets with currency and dash down the tracks.

Police are convinced that the dy- namiting had been carefully planned and skillfully executed, the almost mathematical precision of the bomb's effect pointing to a more than casual knowledge of dynamite-battery blasting.

The explosion had been planted in an isolated spot along the mountainside near the mine, where the concussion was most likely to be muffled.

With Description

The paycar contained money for mine workers at No. 20 tunnel of the Truesdale colliery. Most of the pay envelopes for the main workings had been distributed and the car was proceeding along the narrow gauge mine railway to the No. 20 tunnel when the explosion occurred.

Hettig's story of two men near the spot where the blast let go is the only clue on which state and county police and coal companies are working. The men were too far away from Hettig for the latter to obtain a description of them and police admitted today that thus far they have no trace of the men.

STAR LORE

TWO UNIVERSAL EINSTEIN
DEDUCTIONS

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter

Two universal principles which the Einsteins theory has deduced are:
First, that the velocity of light in empty space always remains constant as computed by any observer, no matter where the observer is, stationary or in motion, or from what direction the light is coming. A second principle of deduction is that the amount of energy a body of matter contains, determines its mass. When that body's energy is increased, its mass (matter) is slightly increased also.

This really means that energy has mass, and is a new departure from the old theory, Newton's, which held that the mass of a body is constant.

For the present at least, the anti-prohibitionists will rally around the resolution of Senator Wagner (D) of New York, calling upon the President's commission to continue its inquiries and determine whether or not prohibition is, in fact, enforceable and whether it should be modified. A somewhat similar resolution has been introduced in the house by Rep. Andrew Drew (R) of Mass.

BORAH IS Silent

Meanwhile, Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, whose demand for action on the prohibition question brought matters to a head, remained silent on the report of Chairman George W. Wickersham and his associates. In some quarters this silence was interpreted as lack of approval. It was considered certain he would oppose the Wagner resolution, for he has long felt congress can make up its own mind without the aid of expert commissions.

SENATOR NORRIS (R) of Neb., chairman of the senate judiciary committee, to which the entire report of the commission was referred, said consideration of the proposals contained therein would begin next Monday. He said he had not yet studied the report and therefore refused to comment or speculate on possible action.

SENATOR JONES (R) of Washington, author of the drastic "five-and-ten"
law for which modification is proposed, said he looked for the house to act at once and expressed his hope that the bill would be available for early enactment of the whole program.

PREDICTS ACTION

Rep. Tilson, of Conn., Republican floor leader of the house, predicted the lower branch of congress would adopt all of the suggested changes within a month, and Speaker Longworth likewise gave assurances of prompt action. Six different committees are considering the Hoover-Wickersham report.

Rep. Williamson (R) of South Dakota, planned to introduce today in the house the bill transferring prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the department of justice.

Pending also before the house, and due for consideration this week, is the treasury-post office appropriation bill which carries $15,000,000 for dry law enforcement. There may be agitation to increase this amount although Rep. Cranton (R) of Mich., a dry leader, expressed the opinion the proposed reorganization legislation should be first passed. Promise of a "showdown on the question of funds" was given by Rep. LaGuardia (R) of New York, militant wet leader.

Some inkling of the future plans of the wets may be gleaned from a statement made by Senator Hayes (D) of Mo., giving general approval to the President's recommendations.

"The third recommendation, recod-ification of the prohibition laws, is excellent," he said. "The Volstead Act is not a scientific enactment. It is illogical in parts, vague in other parts, an extreme. Its definition of one half of one per cent as intoxicating is an absurdity upon its face and cannot be successfully defended."

"Modification of this limitation would do more to bring law enforcement than millions spent by congress, or any other proceeding, which the commission could advocate."

"In the interest of law enforcement, to curtail the enormous expense of that enforcement and to save the loss of life—some 1,300 have been killed and nearly 500,000 arrested—I think it would be better to revise by revision of the Volstead Act without violating the spirit or the intent of the constitutional amendment."

Ivorites Foresee Record Progress

Make Plans For Great Year;
Other News Notes By Brython

By WM. A. JOHNS
Brython

The Star of Wales Lodge No. 60, True Ivorites of America, held the first meeting of the year, Saturday evening, January 11. The attendance was very good and great work was performed by those present. A talk was given concerning the increasing of the membership of the lodge and various plans were introduced. The feeling was to make the year 1930 the most successful year in the history of the lodge.

The present president of the high office, Evan Hopkins would like to see the Star of Wales in the front line this year. He has been the Grand Vice President of the Ivorite board and next year he is expected to fill the highest chair, the grand president of the order.

Thomas D. Thomas, the financial secretary of the lodge, gave his yearly report which was very encouraging. Brother John Harvard reported the sick members of the lodge, all of which were in the same conditions as before.

Word has come from Cleveland, O., to the effect that Mrs. Henry Badger has recovered from her late illness and is able to be around once again. Mrs. Badger entertained the people of Cleveland with her wonderful voice and her lovely playing. Mrs. Badger was a former resident of New Castle.

A Fine Record of Fair Dealing

Adjusting losses is but one part of Stock Fire Insurance service. Naturally, in the mind of the assured, it looms large when loss occurs. At that time it is the most important process of all.

Every day the adjuster meets people who have sustained losses against which they were insured. Whether greeted cordially or gruffly, the adjuster must handle his problem with tact and fairness. The reputation of his company goes with him into every case.

A Million Fire Loss Reports

Nearly a million reports of fire loss are filed annually with the Stock Fire Insurance companies. Of the claims arising from these reports, more than 99 percent are adjusted without resort to litigation; a splendid tribute to the fairness of the contracting parties—the public and the fire insurance companies.

The value of good will in the adjusting of losses is as much appreciated by the Stock Fire Insurance companies as it is in the acquisition of business.

Public Confidence

The records afford ample evidence of the sincere purpose of adjusters to settle claims in keeping with the rights of all concerned.

To the fair dealing of its adjusters Stock Fire Insurance owes a large measure of the public confidence which it enjoys.

A letter has been received from the niece of the Brython, Laura Jones, but the name is now Mrs. James H. Morgan. She was united in marriage to Mr. Morgan and they are making their home in Azura, California. Her husband is a gardener by trade and they own a piece of land at the above place, where her husband is raising vegetables and selling them at the market. He is doing well. They are the parents of two children and their home is about 20 miles from the home of Thomas Edwards and family, Plano, California.

There are two of the leading Welshmen of the city of New Castle, celebrating their birthdays. They are William Phillips, of East Reynolds street, and Daniel Williams, Sheridan avenue. One will be 70 on the 14th of the month. Mr. Williams was born at Cumbria, Swansea, and Mr. Phillips was born at Morristown, South Wales. Both came to this country 35 years ago and they have lived at New Castle for over 30 years. They served the American Sheet and Tin Plate company well and faithfully as tin workers and today they are receiving their pensions.

Richard T. Morris, of South Jefferson street, has secured a fine position with the Sheet and Tube Company of Youngstown. He is making his home in New Castle, going by street car to his work every day.

Thomas D. Thomas, the financial secretary of the lodge, gave his yearly report which was very encouraging. Brother John Harvard reported the sick members of the lodge, all of which were in the same conditions as before.

William J. Powell, the son of Benjamin Powell, Edison avenue, is employed as a foreman in one of the machine shops of Youngstown. He used to be the night foreman some years ago, at the Pennsylvania Engineering Works, where his father was the day foreman of the machine shop of the Pennsylvania Engineering Works, for many years.

WHO WANTS MONKEY VINE SEED?

Editor and News Readers:

It is a new vine, said to come from Japan, anyway it does not matter. It is a beautiful vine, rapid climber, dense foliage, but never blooms, yet it produces seed, in size, from a kernel of corn to the size of a hen's egg, the largest seed are grown on 3 year old roots. Frost kills the vine, but roots kept from freezing, awns up a strong vine in the spring. There now, that's that, and I will send any one or two or three of the seed if you will send postage. That will give you a start, then save and plant the seed another year and you will have seed for others. Mind the seed I will send are not the largest size, for I have only grown the vine one season, but they are the size of marbles.

The friend who gave me my seed, keeps all the large ones and sells them for 10¢ a piece, the others, she gave me, thus my supply. Do not confuse the vine with "Dutchman's Pipe" as it is entirely different. It is sometimes called the "Monkey Vine", which non de plume fits very well as often the picture of a monkey's face is seen on the large seed. Be sure and give a plain address, it is as necessary as the postage. I like to do these things, until I get an unreadable address, then I get cold feet. Last year I gave flower seed, but worse than a poor address, some wrote "Send on the seed I will pay the postage here". Guess they took me for a crook of some sort. It was the one step between the sublime and the ridiculous; did they expect me to pay for the song and then sing it? So I did not send it as Uncle Sam does not carry parcels for his health.

This vine will grow indoors and if given a support, will grow to the top of the window. I might wait until spring to give you the seed, also several varieties of flower seed, but for two reasons I might not be able to do so.

HOUSE BURNS

One of the old landmarks burned down. It was the Hoagland house located on the river front and was occupied by Mrs. Wesson, who was in New Castle when the fire occurred. It is thought that a defective flue was the cause of the fire. Some of the furniture was saved but on account of no water being handy the citizens of the town were unable to save the building.

85% of America's Leading Hospitals now use the same absorbent of which Kotex is made

Here is medical approval which dictates every woman's choice of sanitary protection . . . it must be hygienically safe, it must be more comfortable than any substitute

Kotex absorbs (1, actual test) five times quicker, five times greater, than an equal amount of surgical cotton. It takes up 16 times its own weight in moisture and distributes that moisture evenly, not all in one concentrated place.

For perfect daintiness, Kotex deodorizes completely and thoroughly.

Kotex may be worn on either side—doesn't have to be used in a certain specified way. That makes adjustment easier, protection safer. Any way you use it, Kotex is always comfortable and safe.

Since it is so easy to buy Kotex and the price is so low, no woman need consider using anything else. Her choice is made for her by the medical profession. Surely, if they find Kotex absorbent best—even in the most dangerous operations—it cannot fail to be best for constant use.

Why smart women prefer Kotex

It is significant that 9 out of 10 women in smarter circles today use Kotex. They find that it permits a freedom and poise hard to acquire otherwise. That's because Kotex really fits. It is designed, you see, to conform . . . shaped at the corners and tapered.

And here is the reason so many women first began to use Kotex: it is easily disposable. That fact alone has helped to change the hygienic habits of millions of women the world over!

FAST RACE HORSES WERE RAISED AT FAIR GROUND

Farm That Once Was Stock Farm To Be Sold On Friday, January 17

SITUATION IS IDEAL FOR DAIRY BUSINESS

"Director," one of the fastest race horses of all time, and "St Vincent," another that circled the beaten track almost as fast, were two of the stock of fine race horses which Charles Clark raised at what was formerly the Locust Grove farm, but what now comprises the 112-acre plot which the New Castle Agricultural association will sell to the highest bidder on Friday, January 17, at 2 p.m.

Older residents today recalled some of their outstanding recollections about the fine farm, located directly in front of the New Castle fair grounds and running a considerable distance along the Harlansburg road.

Mr. Clark had an ideal stock farm, with a race track around it on which to train his pacers and trotters. Many remember that a fine stock of horses was raised but the names of "Director" and "St. Vincent" are remembered more easily because of records they established.

Mr. Clark sold the farm to Robert McAfee some time later and Mr. McAfee, a former secretary of state of Pennsylvania, occupied it until about 1918.

J. W. Hartwell and John S. Crowl, who form the committee in charge of the sale, spoke highly of the suitable location today. They mentioned that during fair time a market large enough to consume the owner's entire products is located right at his door. An improved road leads into New Castle and if for any reason marketing in the city is desired it could be done conveniently.

On the farm are a 10-room house and bank barn equipped with running water and electric lights, the most modern equipment. The attic of the house is finished and has an outdoor kitchen.

The farm land is well drained and well fertilized with plenty of ideal pasture and water. Should a man wish to establish a dairy farm or race horse training or stock farm he would have to go far if the fair ground site could be improved upon.

Mr. Hartwell stated today that possession will be given the owner on April 1.

Information regarding the sale can be obtained by inquiring of either Mr. Hartwell or Mr. Crowl.

Modern Woodmen Installation Open

Pittsburgh Official Of Organization To Make Chief Address Next Monday

Open installation of officers of the New Castle Camp, No. 5269, Modern Woodmen of America, will be held on Monday, January 20.

An entertainment will be staged in conjunction with it.

A novelty dance and song sketches by local entertainers has been arranged by the committee in charge, namely: Ira D. Campbell, chairman; C. H. Wood and Jesse McCommon.

The principal address of the evening will be brought by D. N. Hrothot, special deputy at large, M. W. A., at Pittsburgh.

Following this event will come a large class adoption for new members on Monday, January 27. Thirty-seven candidates have already applied for membership from C. E. Lauer, who is conducting a 90-day campaign among the M. W. A. camps.

Open House Will Be Held By Legion

Short Business Session Will Precede Program Of Entertainment This Evening

Open house for members only, will be observed by Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion, at the Legion Home Association building this evening. A short business session will precede the program of the evening, starting promptly at 8 o'clock.

Some important business will come up for discussion at this time, as plans are now being made for the appearance here soon of National Commander Bodamer, and a mammoth banquet for Legionnaires and interested friends is being planned.

The membership of the post is now over the 300 mark, Commander H. H. Rosenthal announces, and prospects for greatly exceeding the 1929 membership are bright.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Higher Price Levels In Early Stock Trading Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Most of the active industrial and utility stocks reached higher price levels in the early trading today, only to fall back in the second hour when the wave of profit taking flowed in Pennsylvania, and at the head of the popular rails, forged ahead to 79, aided by good earnings reports and the fact that the "rights" to buy the new shares expire tomorrow. United States Steel and Consolidated Gas led the bulk of the industrial and utility stocks respectively.

expected to be working out of its narrow rut, transactions in the well known shares increasing about 50 per cent over the last few dull sessions.

Investment buying was encouraged by the favorable surveys of industry and business, though the reports of past performances in the building and other industries which came to hand were rather gloomy. Building construction in December, for example, fell off 39 per cent from the aggregate of the same month in 1928.

Pennsylvania's new advance to 79 carried that stock about 7 points above the low of last week. Allegheny Corporation was well brought above 26, and New York Central around 170. Consolidated Gas, at the head of the utilities, advanced 2 points to 103 1/2. Bethlehem Steel was again in demand, forging ahead to 97 1/2, about 2 points above the opening price. United Corporation, in the low-priced utility group, advanced a point to 33 1/2 in active trading near the noon period. American Waterworks advanced to 95 1/2 for a new gain of 2 points. Montgomery Ward rose from fire and sold off 1 1/2 at 42 1/2. Call money was unchanged at 9 1/2 per cent.

Welfare Societies Begin Convention

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Jan. 14.—With delegates from twelve organizations, embracing every phase of welfare work, in attendance, the annual convention of Pennsylvania Welfare Societies opens here today at noon with the initial meeting of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society at the Hotel Lawrence.

The opening session will be featured by the address of welcome by Mayor Joseph C. Williams while annual reports and a round table discussion were the only business on the program. Dr. W. Irving Clark, who will be the principal speaker, will review the progress of health work in Pennsylvania industry.

The Pennsylvania societies participating in the joint convention include the American Association for Organizing Family Social Work, American Association of Community Chests and Councils, American Association of Social Workers, Big Brother and Big Sister Federation, Mothers Assistance Fund, National Association of Travelers and Societies, Pennsylvania Housing and Town Planning Association, and the Pennsylvania State Society for Crippled Children.

Among the speakers that will be heard during the daily sessions which close on Friday are Mary S. Labaree of Harrisburg, president of the Pennsylvania Conference on Welfare Work and director of the Bureau of Children in the Department of Welfare; Dr. Charles T. Emerson, Indianapolis, Dean of the Indiana School of Medicine; Edwin Solenberger, Philadelphia; Elizabeth Yerxa, Madison, Wis.; Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, Raleigh, N.C.; Attorney Harry A. Jones, Washington, Pa.; and Kenneth L. Pray, of Philadelphia.

Some News, Some Views, But

Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There's one nice thing about weather such as we're having. It always makes copy, and last night was good for a line or two in anybody's paper. At six thirty the fog had some of the down town streets blanketed, and the street lights looking murky and dim. At seven thirty the fog lifted and at eight o'clock the moon was out doing his bit. Then some more fog and rain and tough driving, and by midnight the air was clear again, with the moon back of a screen. And once again that peculiar looking circle around the moon, not quite so large as the last time, but there. Will the amateur astronomers file their answers early.

Some of the boys standing on the Washington street bridge the other afternoon began fanning about the flood of March 1913, which you may remember. As a flood that was not quite as big a success as the one Noah saw, but plenty successful in its field. That was the time when Washington street was a lagoon, with the only dry spot being a few yards at Mercer street, where the rivers didn't quite meet. And I never expect to forget the lad who was carrying his sweetie through the water, only to drop her as he was a couple of steps from dry ground.

Reports from the Secret Service department are to the effect that Dick Gwynn is now eligible to full membership in the Mustache club of the New Castle Tin Mill. Phil Williams who is a charter member vouches for the hirsute adornment and his name will be entered accordingly.

Out on the streets of the city, the proposed plan of Mayor William H. Gillespie for a series of conferences looking towards prosperity is receiving favorable comment. The idea is a good one, and from the comment this column conductor has heard, Mayor Bill has hit an idea on the nose.

Too much sport Monday evening to get it all. Up at New Wilmington the

Railroad Company In Given Verdict

Why New Castle Mining And Clay Company Fought Suit
Brought For Freight

In the case of the New York Central Railroad Company against The New Castle Mining and Clay Products Company, which was tried before Judge Hildebrand, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $314.44. The suit was brought for freight on cars of brick shipped by the Clay Products Company to Dolgentle, N. Y. The brick company fought the payment owing to peculiar circumstances surrounding the case.

When the brick, four cars, arrived at their destination, the contractor, O. L. Weidman, went to the railroad office and paid the freight bill which was presented to him.

Some time after the freight was paid by Weidman the railroad company discovered that a mistake had been made on the rate, the cars having been billed at a lower rate than provided for in the schedule. Weidman was notified that he had not paid enough and was asked for the balance but never paid it.

It was not until about three years afterwards, according to the defense, that the brick company here was notified that the balance of the freight had not been paid. In the meantime Weidman had failed. The brick company alleged negligence on the part of the railroad company in waiting three years, claiming that if the company had been notified promptly that Weidman had refused to pay, the brick company would have had an opportunity to have collected from him.

It was claimed that since the railroad company had not given the brick company notice, it was evidence that the railroad company had elected to recover from Weidman. In the meantime Weidman had failed and the brick company, owing to the delay, had not been able to collect from him. The point involved was largely a matter of law as to when the railroad company should have notified the brick company.
